Y.M.C.A. CAMPAIGN FOR MODERNIZATION OPENED WITH RUSH

AFTER WEEKS OF PREPARATION DRIVE STARTED ENTHUSIASTICALLY TODAY

Climaxing weeks of preparation and preliminary work, the Y.M.C.A. drive for modernization funds get off with an enthusiastic start Monday morning when campaign officials and the complete personnel met at the Y. M. C. A. building for a Kick-off Breakfast. Speeches by campaign leaders and prominent Corsicana citizens were keynoted with optimism and sincere belief that the campaign would be terminated in success.

Beauford H. Jester, president of the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. gave the initial address and introduced the speakers. "We are assembled here to begin a campaign the like of which none of us will ever have the opportunity of participating in again," Mr. Jester said. "This is not merely a maintenance campaign," he continued," It is a building campaign, the results of which will be evidenced for years to come."

Mr. Jester asked that the "one-time" aspect be stressed to the citizens of the community. "It is to be understood that the 1939 annual maintenance budget is included in the quota set for this campaign," he explained. He emphasized the fact that campaign subscriptions need not necessarily be made in one lump sum but could be extended into four payments over a period of eighteen months.

Eyes of Texas on Corsicana

J. J. McConnell, area secretary of the Y.M.C.A., told the assembled campaign workers that "the eyes of Texas are upon the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. drive." "Y. M.C.A. organizations over the entire state are watching the progress of your campaign and you have their sincere wish for a successful conclusion," he said. "Let me impress upon you the importance of this thing you are setting forth," he continued, "it is not merely a matter of dollars and cents, but of citizenship. Today more than ever before our young people need our guidance."

Frank N. Drane spoke of the "forward movement" of which the campaign was significant. "It is in step with progress of this

Atlantic Squadron May Be Permanent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The navy's new "temporary" Atlantic squadron, some officials believe, may become a permanent though probably not a major sea force.

The unit was created last month, and was more than doubled a week ago. It now consists of 38 warcraft.

Naval circles heard today that it would be augmented further before the year's end by the Memphis and the Milwaukee, the remaining fleet battle force cruisers. They now are undergoing routine overhaul on the west coast.

DECLARES GERMAN SPIES TRANSMIT GOVERNMENT DATA

TRIAL THREE ALLEGED MEMBERS OF SPY RING OPENS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Attorneys for three alleged German spies described their clients as "framed" and "innocent" today after United States Attorney Lamar Hardy told a federal court jury they had penetrated into some of the innermost secrets of this country's military defense.

The prosecutor occupied an hour and 20 minutes in outlining the government's case against Johanna Hofman, 26, former beautician on the German liner Europa and Otto Hermann Voss, 36, and Erich Glaser, 28, both naturalized citizens born in Germany. Glaser is a former United States army soldier.

Glaser's attorney pictured his clients as "a hard-working boy" and asserted a "secret aviation code" he was accused of stealing was something one might buy at newsstands.

Miss Hofmann's attorney said she was "an innocent dupe" who had been "framed."

Counsel for Voss asserted: "There is absolutely no connection between my client and the other defendants as far as this conspiracy is concerned."

In stating the government's case, Hardy asserted the defendants, with 14 others now fugitives, were members of a German spy ring

CONTROVERSY OVER STATUS OF FORMER CONVICT GROWING

ACTION OF JUDGE KIRBY TO BE CONTESTED IN HIGHER STATE COURT

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Armed with an executive order from Acting Governor Walter F. Woodul, Texas Rangers today sought to re-arrest and deliver to the Texas penitentiary Arthur Huey, central figure of a strange legal puzzle.

Woodul yesterday instructed Edward Clark, secretary of state, to issue an order for the arrest of Huey who was released from the prison on a writ issued by District Judge Fountain Kirky at Groesbeck.

At Stinnett, District Judge Curtis Douglas held the prison authorities in contempt of court for releasing Huey, convicted in Judge Douglas' court of embezzling Hutchinson county funds.

Whether prison officials would receive Huey if he was arrested remained unknown. They would be acting in defiance of a second order issued by Judge Kirby restraining them from accepting him.

A state official pointed out final determination of the mixup probably would come from the court of criminal appeals. I was pointed out that if officers arrested Huey they would be subject to contempt of Judge Kirby's court from which they could appeal to the higher court.

BORGER, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The controversy between two district courts over whether Arthur Huey, former Hutchinson county tax collector, should go back to the penitentiary seemed headed today for a showdown.

HIGH COURT AGREES TO PASS UPON CASE SIMILAR TO BRIDGES

NUMEROUS OTHER CASES WERE ACTED UPON BY SUPREME COURT TODAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The supreme court agreed today to pass on litigation which may affect possible deportation proceeding against Harry Bridges, West Coast labor leader.

Acting on a government petition, the tribunal consented to review a decision by the fifth circuit court reversing a deportation order against Joseph G. Strecker of Hot Springs, Ark.

The controversy may bring a ruling on whether an alien communist is subject to deportation.

Among other actions, the court:

Refused to pass on an appeal by Wilfred Jones, convicted in the St. Louis "gift of god" baby case and sentenced to serve ten years in a federal penitentiary. The government contended that he and three others attempted to obtain money from a St. Louis physician on representations that the physician was the father of a child claimed to have been born to Mrs. Nellie T. Muench.

Declined to review an Illinois decision requiring William Hale Thompson, former mayor of Chicago, to account for $72,794 spent in 1927 in a campaign to obtain congressional enactment of Mississippi flood control legislation.

Continued to hear arguments from opposing counsel on validity of a national labor relations board order directing the consolidated Edison Company of New York to abrogate a collective bargaining contract with an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

WILLIAM GREEN, AFL HEAD, TALKS TO TEXAS LABOR

BEAUMONT, Oct. 17.—(AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, came to Beaumont today to address the Texas Federation of Labor's 41st annual convention. The famed labor leader had been in Houston for the national A. F. L. convention.

State officers were elected in meetings of independent crafts here yesterday which were preliminaries to the state convention proper.

C. C. Killian of Fort Worth was elected president of the association of Fire Fighters; A. J. Bannon of Houston re-elected head of the association of Electricians; W. W. Strong of Houston re-elected president of the Allied Printing Trades Council, B. A. Jackson of Tyler chosen head of the conference of Painters and J. H. Gunkel of San Antonio re-elected president of the council of Brewery Workers.

INVASION OF SOUTH CHINA BY JAPANESE AMAZINGLY RAPID

VITAL CANTON - KOWLOON RAILWAY HAS BEEN CUT IN AT LEAST TWO PLACES

By ELMER W. PETERSON

HONGKONG, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Japanese army announced tonight it had straddled the Canton-Kowloon railway "at several points" but reports from areas further north indicated that the rapid Japanese drive toward Canton was meeting its first serious, organized Chinese resistance.

Severe fighting was reported from Wongtang, about 40 miles east of Canton, in what appeared to be the first major battle to decide the fate of the South China metropolis and the vital supplines radiating from it.

The Japanese communique announcing the cutting of the Canton-Kowloon railway, chief link between the British colony of Hongkong and Canton, did not name the points affected, but these were believed to be between Pingwu, 15 miles north of the Kongkong frontier, and Cheungmuktau, halfway to Canton.

After driving 45 miles inland from the Bias Bay landing point. The Japanese column thrusting toward Canton ran into well entrenched positions near Wongtong held by some 100,000 Chinese troops equipped with field guns, Howitzers and anti-aircraft defenses.

Before meeting this resistance the Japanese invasion had made what military observers considered amazing progress.

One of the forces which cut the Canton-Knowloon railway was known to have been landed on the Pearl river delta to the west of the line.

Cross East River.

Other forces crossed the East river after the capture of Waichow and fought their way up the Waichow-Canton highway to within 50 miles of Canton.

Indications that the Japanese intended to drive straight on to the South China metropolis were seen in the fact that Japanese warplanes heavily bombarded Tsengsing, Chinese troop concen-

Dallas Woman And Her Father Burn to Death

DALLAS, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. C. W. Ellett, 47, and her father, Jeremiah Sparks Evans, were burned to death early today as fire razed an apartment house here.

One of the occupants of the four-apartment building said she believed a water heater caused the fire.

Mrs. Ellett's son, Charles, 17, said he and a cousin, Charles Cason, had decided it would be fun to sleep in a trailer parked in the yard. They were awakened by cries and smoke. The blaze was so far advanced, he said, that they could not get into the building in an attempt to save his mother and grandfather.

EUROPE CONTINUES TO WRESTLE HITLER AROUSED PROBLEMS

NEW NOTE OF NATIONAL UNITY, HOWEVER, COMING OUT OF GREAT BRITAIN

By The Associated Press.

With Hungary partly mobilized and her territorial issue with Czechoslovakia in suspense, Europe today still wrestled with the difficult problem of readjustment to Germany's expanding power and influence.

In Britain, a new note of national unity emerged to back a quickened rearmament pace. The cabinet was expected shortly to approve large new arms expenditures, a register of men and women to determine defense resources and, possibly, the creation of a new ministry for volunteer defense work.

Germany's economics minister, Walther Funk, predicted Germany soon would find the raw materials she needs in Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Turkey. Returning from a good will tour, Funk described those states as "a sort of Balkan axis extending from the German border to the Black Sea.

Czechoslovakia also appeared ready to revolve in Germany's economic orbit. Reichsfuehrer Hitler has assured Prague that Czechoslovakia can retain her culture and attain greater prosperity by co-operating with Germany Czechoslovaks, if not convinced of a bright future, apparently feel it necessary to pin their hopes on Berlin.

In Hungary, meanwhile, troops and war equipment continued to roll toward the Czechoslocak border which diplomats examined several possibilities for renewing suspended negotiations over Hungary's claims for Hungarian-populated areas of Czechoslovakia. Officials stressed that the mobilization was for precaution, not for war.

Heavy Squalls Is Apparent Ending Of Storm Threat

GALVESTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Gusty winds and heavy squalls struck quickly and briefly along along the Texas coast today, apparently ending the threat of a moderate gulf storm.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the highest wind velocity recorded here was 30 miles while rainfall reached 1.05 inches. The tide was up 4.4 feet but started falling as the disturbance moved inland.

At Port Arthur the wind was slightly stronger and in 30 minutes about half an inch of rain fell.

After the brief disturbance skies partly cleared and the wind moderated to a breeze, with no further signs of a storm visible. The bureau announced no further advisories were indicated. Storm warnings along the coast will be lowered.

NEW MOVE AGAINST CATHOLIC CLERGY BY NAZI AUSTRIA

ARCHBISHOP OF SALTZBERG RELIEVED AS SUPERVISOR RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

By MELVIN WHITELEATHER

VIENNA, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Dr. Sigismund Waitz, Catholic archbishop of Saltzburg, today was relieved by official order of supervision over religious education in the Salzburg district elementary schools.

This was the latest Nazi move against the Catholic clergy and followed the breakdown of church-state peace negotiations announced in a Vienna speech last Thursday by Joseph Buerckel, Nazi commissioner for Austria.

Hitherto Archbishop Waitz has enjoyed the special privilege of visiting obligatory religious classes in the lower schools and making suggestions as to instruction.

Henceforth such supervision, according to the order issued by the Salzburg district school council, will be carried out solely by state and school officials.

Buerckel, in his anti-clerical speech to a Vienna mass meeting Oct. 13, revealed to some 100,000 Nazis who heard him that the church "saw a new chance" in the "speculation" that Germany "would come into foreign political difficulties" over Czechoslovakia.

Since Buerckel's speech various Catholic parishes in Vienna have reported church withdrawals varying from 15 to 40 per cent. Similar movements were reported from Salzburg, where up to Saturday noon 225 had withdrawn from the church.

Towboats Still Idle In New York Harbor

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Three hundred towboats idled at their piers today, hampering shipping in the world's busiest port as a strike of 2,000 tugboat workers entered its third day.

The strikers, members of the International Longshoremen's association (AFL), rejected last night a compromise wage scale offer made by the New York Towboat Exchange, an organization of employers.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the I. L. A., said the union would remain firm on its "minimum" demands: A closed shop, seniority rights, time and a half for Sunday work, $10 a month pay increase for firemen, deckhands, oilers and cooks and $5 monthly increase for captains and engineers.

ENRAGED FEELINGS OF BRITONS AGAINST PACT SUBSIDING

NEW NOTE OF NATIONAL UNITY BACKS QUICKENED REARMAMENT PACE

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The enraged feelings against Prime Minister Chamberlain's accord appeared today to be subsiding in favor of a new note of national unity to back a quickened rearmament pace.

Newspapers kept up a steady campaign for the rapid integration of all civil and military defense measures.

Winston Churchill, bitter critic of the Munich peace, echoed an apparently growing sentiment in a radio address to the United States last night, appealing for American cooperation against "moral and military aggression of dictators."

Rearmament, said Churchill, who was world war first lord of the admiralty, would be the "sole guarantee of peace."

Premier Chamberlain returns from his Scottish vacation tomorrow to take up with his advisors the details of spurring war industries to greater strides than in all peace-time history, promised after the Munich agreement with Germany, Italy and France for partition of Czechoslovakia.

The premier had also to fill two vacancies in the cabinet, one caused by the death Sunday of Lord Stanley, 44, secretary of state for the Dominions, and the other by the resignation of Alfred Duff Cooper as first lord of the admiralty.

PEACEFUL SETTLING HUNGARIAN DISPUTE IS NOW IN PROSPECT

ASSURANCES OF RUMANIAN SUPPORT ALSO REASSURING TO TROUBLES NATION

PRAGUE, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Highly-placed Czechoslovaks today based new optimism for the republic's future on growing prospects of a peaceful settlement of its territorial issue with Hungary and on accurances of Rumania's support.

Informed quarters declared direct negotiations between Slovaks and Hungarians would be resumed as quickly as possible with the outlook bright for their working out their problems by peaceful means.

The exact course remains to be decided but these sources said the possibility of a conference between Frantisk Chvalkovsky, Czechoslovak minister to Berlin, and Koloman De Kanya, Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, still was "not excluded."

Federal authorities, meanwhile, kept close watch on areas along the Hungarian frontier to preserve quiet pending resumption of the negotiations which were broken off at Komarom last night.

Rumania, diplomats said, had given Prague repeated assurances she would insist on independence for sub-Carpathian Russia (Ruthnia) if either Hungary or Poland sought to split the area—Czechoslovak's eastern tip—from the dwindling republic.

Czechoslovakia appeared today to have switched her gigantic reconstruction task to a new course—co-operating with Germany.

JEALOUSY AND SELF DEFENSE RIVAL CHARGES IN SHOOTING OF RUTH ETTING'S HUSBAND

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Jealously?—or self defense?—clashed as rival theories today to explain the shooting of Singer Ruth Etting's new husband by her divorced mate and former business manager, Martin (Moe) Snyder.

Snyder, held in jail on suspicion of kidnaping and attempting to murder Myrl Alderman, 30-year-old bridegroom and radio musician, was curtly quoted by police as saying: "He was shooting at me, so I shot at him. Ruth won't prosecute me, because she still loves me."

But there was scant affection in Miss Etting's silver voice as she angrily blamed the gunplay in her luxurious home Saturday night on Snyder, whom she had divorced in Chicago last November after 17 years of wedded life.

"I don't believe I will ever sing again.... ever," she said, sitting beside the hospital bed of Alderman, who secretly married her in Tijuana, lower California, last July.

"Snyder was merely jealous. He's not satisfied unless he's making trouble. He's threatened to kill me before.

"Snyder's story that Myrl shot at him is ridiculous. That boy never owned a gun. I did, though, one that I had had for years. Synder's gun was the only one there Saturday night until Myrl had been shot and was lying on the floor. Then I slipped into the bedroom and got mine.

"Snyder saw it. He took it away from me and threw it on the floor. Edith Snyder picked it up and shot at him—her own father. I believe that girl would lay down her life for me. Saturday night she almost did."

Miss Snyder, Miss Etting's stepdaughter and secretary, concurred with the singer and Alderman's recital of events.

COMING NOVEMBER ELECTION EXPECTED TO SHOW HOW FIRM ROOSEVELT'S HOLD REMAINS

By W. B. RAGSDALE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Thirty-three governors, 467 members of congress, and hundreds of lesser officials will be chosen Nov. 8 in an election which may show how firmly President Roosevelt has retained his hold on the voters.

Wide republican gains would bring instant claims that his grip is slippng. A democratic loss of only 25 or 30 house setas and a governor or so would leave the democrats feeling that they had ridden out the storm pretty well.

Most democratic leaders expect some losses. It has been customary for a backswing to set in after a party has surged upward in the sweep of a presidential election.

Yet, the issues and the parties have become so ensnarled in the pre-election maneuvers that unless there is a major upset, it might be hard to prove very much from the election results.

In some states, republicans are seeking office on platform promises that bring shudders to the conservative democrats. And the democratic ticket is laden with numerous conservatives whose very names cause liberal democrats to get red in the face.

In few places have the questions been boiled down to the simple one of whether a candidate is for or against the policies of the new deal.

Two movements are being watched closely by the officials of both major parties. One is the reaction of the farmers to the operation of the new farm program. The other is the demands of high pension advocates.

ENGLISH KING AND QUEEN TO PAY VISIT TO UNITED STATES

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Daily Herald said today that arrangements are being made for a state visit to the United States by King George and Queen Elizabeth next summer.

The paper said the American visit, to end his Canadian tour, would be announced in the king's speech from the throne opening parliament Nov. 8.

The British embassy in Washington and the United States department of state are working on a tentative program for the approval of the king and President Roosevelt, the paper added.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The state department and the British embassy professed today to have no official information regarding the proposed visit of King George and his queen to the United States.

POLICY OF COMMISSION ON SATURDAY AND SUNDAY TEXAS OIL SHUTDOWNS DUE IN WEEK

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A new order formally announcing the decision of the State Railroad Commission on the important question of lifting or continuing Saturday and Sunday shutdowns of Texas oil fields is not expected for a week or 10 days.

The commission could announce a policy in a statement but in matters such as this usually follows the course of an order.

Commissioner Lon Smith said it might be two weeks before a new order was issued. Ernest O. Thompson, commission chairman, was in Washington for a railroad rate hearing, while Commissioner C. V. Terrell also was out of town.

Smith pointed out that the current proration order provided for the shutdown of the state's vast producing oil areas only on the first four Saturdays and Sundays of October and not on the final weekend.

Therefore, unless a new order was issued altering the existing one there will be no closing on the last Saturday and Sunday in October, and, presumably, Texas fields would continue to produce seven days a week until an order was forthcoming.

Opinion was divided as to what the commission might do. One member, Smith, long has opposed the Saturday and Sunday shutdowns, while favoring strict proration through allowable schedules. There are indications Smith is more desirous than ever of terminating the closings.

Last week Thompson served notice in a public statement that the commission was aware Texas was losing its oil markets in part, because of production in other states and importations from foreign countries, and was prepared to do something about it.

One view was, however, that a majority of the commission, usually Thompson and C. V. Terrell, believed Texas' interests could best be served by further attempts to obtain cooperation from other states in curbing production before upping Texas' output 400,000 barrels daily, which would be the effect of returning to seven day production basis.

Some thought the commission might lift only the Saturday shutdown and then cut the state's allowable, keeping production in line with recommendations of the Federal Bureau of Mines as to Texas' share of the national market for November demand, up 12,000 barrels over October.

No one has been heard to express the opinion that the commission contemplated taking off the lid from Texas production and entering into a production and price cutting war with other states.

One speaker at the statewide proration hearing here Saturday asserted, nevertheless, that crude prices were too high, and the industry would benefit in the long run if artificial restrictions were lightened and prices allowed to find a natural level.

OFFICERS OF STATE ON LOOKOUT FOR AN ESCAPED KILLER

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Officers throughout the state were on the lookout today for Robert Lacey Cash, Dallas county slayer, who slipped from the penitentiary here yesterday while fellow convicts were staging a rodeo for Governor-Nominate W. Lee O'Daniel and thousands of other visitors.

Cash walked from a prison building with a soda pop salesman on his way to the rodeo. The pop seller continued to the stadium but the Dallas convict didn't.

Cash's absence was not noted until, while prison authorities were making their nightly check-up, Detective Will Fritz of Dallas telephoned and said the convict had been reported seen in Dallas.

A life sentence was assessed Cash in the killing last November 15 of Harry Leon Helfman, Brooklyn business man. Helfman's body was thrown into a Dallas sewage pit.

NEW LABOR PEACE PROPOSAL MAY COME FROM CIO MEETING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The next opening for proposals to end labor's three-year-old civil war may come when the C. I. O. meets at Pittsburgh Nov. 14 to organize on a permanent basis.

Secretary Perkins advanced Saturday the government's first specific suggestion to close the breach between the C. I. O. and the American Federation of Labor. So far, however, neither side has indicated acceptance of her idea for creating a 13-member commission with full power to work out a solution.

Despite the refusal of both John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chief, and William Green, federation president, to discuss Miss Perkins' plan, advocates of labor peace predicted the attempts at conciliation would continue.

They expressed belief the next move might be deferred until the C. I. O. convention. Green recently said, however, that Lewis' action in calling the meeting was a rebuff to peace overtures.

Informed persons said Lewis and his aides took the position that the membership of the 10 unions affiliated with the C. I. O. was entitled to have its say in public, inasmuch as the A. F. of L. devoted much of its three-week convention to discussion of the controversy.

PAT AND MIKE HONOR CITY WITH BRIEF VISIT SUNDAY EN ROUTE PRISON RODEO

Two boys in Stetsons stopped briefly in Corsicana Sunday. They were on the way to the Huntsville rodeo—a fact that was pretty well known because their dad had broadcast the information a few hours before from the libing room of their home in Fort Worth. Pat and Mike, otherwise known as the "O'Daniel boys," the "Hillbilly boys," and the "first sons of Texas" were the center of attention when they stopped at the Navarro Coffee Shop at noon for a hasty bite to eat before continuing on to Huntsville.

"We are in pretty much of a rush," Mike said, but he wasn't too rushed to speak affably with a group of "fans" who surrounded him and his brother Pat as they mixed words with food at the lunch counter. They were looking anxiously forward to an afternoon of bronco busting from the sidelines and were admittedly a little excited about the whole thing.

Most of Texas had campaign glimpses of the boys and knows they are two good-looking fellows. Sunday, it wasn't good looks alone that made them stand out from the crowd. Their linen shirts brightly printed with prancing horses, lariats, and emblazoned with letters spelling "The Hillbilly Boys" could take some credit for drawing attention.

"Sis" and the rest of the family were travelling in another car and were continuing on non-stop. Pat and Mike were travelling separately with a group of friends and members of the band.

"How did they like school?" the boys were asked. "School" means the University of Texas where they are registered for business administration courses.

"Oh fine," was the spontaneous answer, "but those studies——" and there was some hesitancy as reference was made to Monday morning classes and approaching mid-term exams. Monday morning classes are never a pleasant thought—not even to a governor's sons.

TEXANS MUST DECREASE THEIR DEMANDS FOR PUBLIC SERVICE IF GOVERNMENT COST IS CUT

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—In the opinion of Claude D. Teer, chairman of the state board of control, Texans may not reasonably expect any substantial reduction in the cost of state government unless they decrease their demands for public service.

Generally acknowledged to be one of the best-informed men in the government, Teer has made this assertion on more than one occasion, most recently in an address to county judges and commissioners meeting at New Braunfels.

Many officials and employes about the capitol who have had to listen all year to politicians charges the government was shot through with extravagance and inefficiency took comfort, not only in this statement by Teer, but also another that state employes on the whole were intelligent, energetic persons performing a high standard of work at low salaries.

Concerning the possibilities for cutting states expenditures, Teer pointed out that about 90 per cent of the state's total income goes for highway construction, college and common school education, investments and trusts, old age assistance, confederate pensions, the prison system, eleemosynary institutions, maintenance of courts and other items in no way connected with salaries.

Most Goes Back.

In other words, considering the year of 1937, about $138,300,000 of the state's income largely went back to the people in some form of aid indirect benefit or for construction and other operating needs.

About 10 per cent of the 1937 income of $154,000,000 was expended for salaries of officials and employes, including those of the district and state judiciary, eleemosynary institutions, state departments and higher educational institutions.

The average of all state officers and employes paid from the state treasury was about $70 a month, or $840 a year. The average was only $47.80 a month for employes in the eleemosynary institutions, including physicians and other technical employes.

"The expenditure from year to year does not represent just money paid out for salaries but is largely for permanent assets or directly for the public welfare," Teer said.

State Owns Much.

"Today our government owns state wealth in public lands, parks, highways, equipment, state buildings, educational buildings and hospitals of various kinds.

"The highways system is valued at about $503,000,000 and other public lands, buildings and property at more than $130,000,000."

While citizens were discussing reductions in cost of the state government he suggested examination of some requests for additional expenditures.

A liberalized old age assistance program, he said, was expected generally in addition, $2,500,000 was needed to match the teachers retirement fund already created and $1,500,000 annually would be needed in the future. The legislature will be called on to provide an additional $100,000 annually to carry on work of the Texas relief commission, and the people have voted to begin a program of aid to dependent children and needy blind.

Need For Increased Service.

Moreover, Teer went on, there was need for increased services and expenditures to take care of the growing population in Texas' eleemosynary institutions. The fine new hospital for insane, nearing the end of construction at Big Spring, cannot be operated until an appropriation is made.

The fact there were 1,121 applications for admission to institutions for the feeble-minded indicated a good building program for this class should be provided for the next biennium, Teer said. The five state orphan homes and training schools were overcrowded and demand for admissions continued, he said.

"The cost of government is tremendous, but the demands by the people for public service is greater," Teer said. "If the government is efficiently and honestly administered and renders a maximum amount of service for the dollar spent the people may not expect any great reduction in the cost of government unless they decrease their demands for public service."

Government Has Grown.

Many persons do not realize the extent to which the government has grown and the numerous services asked of it, he said, making these concluding points:

Since admission to the union in 1845 Texas' population has increased from 125,000 to more than 6,500,000.

State wealth and natural wealth has increased many fold and virtually a new civilization has come about.

The birth of the telephone, telegraph, radio, railroad, automobile and airplane have required extensive laws, rules and regulations.

There has been great development in agriculture and industry, the installation of such labor-saving machinery, the displacement of thousands of citizens from former vocations and livlihood.

The rapid change and development has brought confusion and argument, imposed on the government greater responsibilities and resulted in establishment of many state departments, institutions and agencies.

The government today has 155 boards, institutions and departments.

Card of Thanks

I want to take this method of thanking my many friends for their thoughtfulness during my recent illness. May God pour out his blessings on each and every one.—Mrs. N. D. Johnston, Kirvin, Texas.

Beware The Cough From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you may get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements found in many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and most important of all, Beechwood Creosote nicely blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion "tops" for coughs because in it you get a good dose of Creosote emulsified so that it is palatable, and may be taken frequently by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Creomulsion is generally found satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones due to common colds that hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Don't worry through another sleepless night—use Creomulsion. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained.

Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product, and the relief you want. (Adv.)

PRESIDENT MAKING ENTIRELY NEW STUDY NATIONAL DEFENSE

CAN NOT ESTIMATE NEXT YEAR'S BUDGET UNTIL STUDY COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he was making an entirely new study of the nation's national defense needs and that until it was competed he could not estimate next year's budget.

The President told a press conference he could not comment on the new budget because new technical developments in national defense measures required a complete restudy of defensive requirements.

He said the reason for the reassessment of these needs began to take shape about a year ago because of information coming in in connection with world events. He said the question was forced to a head in the past month. In response to a question he said the new information was of a technical rather than a political nature.

Asked about yesterday's statement by Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the world war industries board, that America was unprepared for war because of lack of sufficient first class equipment, the Presdient said he had not read the statement.

One of the things being studied he said, was that of mass production of war equipment, including airplanes, power and other items.

In his talk to reporters after having been an overnight guest at the White House, Baruch said that although Germany had annexed Austria and partitioned Czechoslovakia, she had not gained all the raw materials or markets she needs. This fact, he said, would lead her to look elsewhere.

Threat To United States.

"The threat to the United States from Germany," he added, "is in South America and is real and immediate.'

Speaking of American unpreparedness for war and how to overcome it, the New York financier urged that mass production be applied to the Nation's production of new arms.

"Our air forces are not what they should be," he asserted. "We haven't quantity production as in Germany. We ought to produce a minimum quantity of planes for our needs now of proven types and arrange for mass production in an emergency. Improvements can be made in replacements.

"We have no munitions manufacturers in this country now. Our needs include shells and big guns we don't know yet how to make."

After learning what the President had said at his press conference, army and navy officers said they were ready with extensive rearmament proposals if the new study of national needs resulted in a request to congress to step up military appropriation.

Needs of Army.

The army, officials said, needs new guns, planes, and motor vehicles, and several thousand more officers and men.

"The general staff hopes congress will provide $30,000,000 to repair deiciencies in anti-aircraft guns and other defenses against air raids.

The navy already has disclosed it will ask for funds to start two battleships and a score of smaller warcraft in addition to the our score now building or appropriated for.

Further the navy wants to modernize five of its present 15 battleships and to aircraft carriers, to build more shore bases and strengthen existing estiblishments.

Warship construction alone will require $150,000,000 more than last year, Mr. Roosevelt has estimated.

The re-examination of defense needs, which the President said had been in progress for a year, already has started a study of weaknesses in the power systems serving the nation's eastern manufacturing centers.

LABOR FEDERATION CONVENTION ENDED HOUSTON SESSIONS

ARMED FOR WAR BUT APPARENTLY ANXIOUS FOR PEACE IN LABOR WAR

By T. F. COMAN

HOUSTON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—American Federation of Labor unions, armed for war but apparently anxious for peace in labor's internal strife, today turned over to their executive council for action the policy mandates of the 58th annual convention which adjourned last night.

Jammed into the program for future action in an 11-day meeting that was dull and stormy by turns were a dozen controversial issues that called for action on the political and industrial fronts. The convention voted to meet in San Francisco in 1939.

After the tumult and debating over dualism and the new deal in the closing days of the session, the convention closed on a "high note of peace" sounded by William Green in a speech accepting for the fifteenth time the presidency of the A. F. of L.

"I promise to you," Green said, "that I shall make every contribution that lies within my power toward the promotion of peace in the labor movement; I shall do what I can to heal the wound and close the breach and unite the forces of labor."

His avowal to seek unity followed by a few days convention action approving the continuation of the "war chest" special assessment levied a year ago for extensive organizing purposes, and the adoption of a report on "secession and dualism" recommending that the council be authorized to "carry on the battle and at the same time stand ready to respond to any genuine appeal for peace."

Tobin Optimistic.

Daniel J. Tobin, leader of 350,000 members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, and the lone outstanding advocate of an immediate peace action by the leadership, said it might take a months or a year to reopen the unity negotiations with the CIO broken off last December after a tentative formula for peace had been reached.

Tobin intimated strongly there may soon be a "conference" in Washington, and many delegates speculated on what might happen between the warring factions before the CIO convenes its first constitutional convention at Pittsburgh Nov. 14.

There still was a possibility, some sources indicated, that President Roosevelt may aid in bringing the two sides together, particularly in view of his messages to the convention urging labor leaders to "make and keep the peace" and prevent the "reaction which otherwise is bound to injure the workers themselves."

Favors Roosevelt Aid.

Daniel W. Tracy, president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, who disclosed he had approached Mr. Roosevelt indirectly last March with a suggestion the President intervene as a mediator in labor's dispute, said;

"I still believe President Roosevelt could be very helpful in bringing the two organizations together."

After the noisy ovation given him when he was re-elected Green addressed an appeal to the International Ladies Garment Workers union, the United Auto Workers union, the United Textile Workers uunion, and the Oil Field Works International to leave the CIO and return to their former affiliation with the A. F. of L.

Significally addressing his appeal to those our unions, Green said;

"Peace will then be restored. The solution of it all remains with you. There are no barriers in the way. There are no hurdles to cross. The door is open, a hearty welcome will be extended to you and you will find your place within the family of labor."

Invitation Not Limited.

He did not mention other CIO unions but some council members said the later "invitation" was not limited to the four mentioned.

The "open door" peace policy pronouncements and debate almost overshadowed important convention action favoring changes in the National Labor Relations Act and wage-hour law, and reaffirming boycott policies against German and Japanese goods.

In its closing stages the convention demonstrated it opposed any general criticism of the new deal policies by sending back to the colunci a resolution committee report atacking the extension of the state's domain over the field of industrial relations.

The delegates earlier had adopted a resolution demanding the U.S. senate reject President Roosevelt's reappointment of Donald W. Smith to the labor board.

The convention turned down resolutions asking A. F. of L. support for collective action by democratic nations against aggressor nations, ordered the establishment of a new maritime union built around the sailor's union of the Pacific, and voted to oppose congressional enactment of the Pattman chain store tax bill.

DISCOVERY OF SWITCHBOARD IN BRAIN WHICH RELAYS MESSAGES FROM EYE TO BODY REPORTED

By STEPHEN J. M'DONOUGH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Discovery of a switchboard in the brain which relays messages from the eye to the rest of the body was announced today.

This new-found center of brain activity was located in studies of diseased areas inside the brain, Dr. N. P. Scalfa of Washington and Dr. E. A. Spiegel of Philadelphia told the American Academy of Opthhalmology and otolaryngology.

The telephone central of the human body is in the mid-brain. It co-ordinates messages received through the optic nerve to the actual brain cells of sight.

When an injury occurs to this area, such as a hemmorrhage or development of a tumor, the normal rections of vision are obscured or altered because the signals became mixed.

Normally the eye will move up and down, sidewise, or in a circle in response to things seen "out of the corner of the eye."

However, when the switchboard of the brain is partially destroyed or interferred with, the movements of the eye in response to moving objects near the outer edges of the field of vision get crossed up.

In such cases the eye movement will reverse itself to the rotation or sidewise movement of an object placed in front of it. This indicates that the sensations perceived by the eye and sent to the receiving portion of the brain are reversed when reflected back through the brain switchboard.

Dr. Spiegel said it therefore is possible for the eye specialist to advise the brain surgeon exactly where to operate, if the disorder can be treated by surgery.

BROAD NEW ADMINISTRATION ATTACK ON UNEMPLOYMENT IS REPORTED BEING WORKED OUT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Informed persons in the administration disclosed today that a broad new attack on the problem of unemployment is in the making.

This may result, they said, in presentation to congress early next year of a correlated program for restoring work opportunities by improving conditions in the nation's basic durable goods industries. Details have not been made known.

At the same time it was learned that a major objective of the monopoly investigating committee will be to uncover business practices and faults in the nation's economic structure which, in the words of one member, "cause conditions in which people can't get jobs."

The committee's work probably will be concerned with a long range solution to the problem, but some administration officials are more interested in starting on a program during the winter.

These officials contend that no substantial improvement in business can be expected until the nation's estimated 10,000,000 or more jobless begin returning to useful employment in private industry.

They say a sound prosperity must be cased on restoring prosperous. conditions to the heavy goods industry. This can be brought about, they argue, by setting the railroads on their feet so that they again can become big customers, by further stimulating building construction, by encouraging greater automobile production and in similar ways.

It is their contention that the pick-up in 1937 resulted almost entirely from improvements in so-called consumer goods markets, and that it collapsed because those improvements were not supported by advances in the durable goods industries.

JEWISH AGENCY FOR PALESTINE DECLARES KILLINGS WILL NOT STOP THE ZIONIST MOVEMENT

By JAMES A MILLS

JERUSALEM, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Jews in Palestine holding United States citizenship made plans today for an early conference for all Jewish-American investors in the Holy Land to express to Great Britain and the United States opposition against any restriction on Jewish immigration into Palestine.

Spokesmen for the 8,000 to 9,000 American Jews in Palestine said they intended to appeal to the British government not to break pledges of the Balfour declaration and the League of Nations mandate.

On the basis of the Balfour declaration of Nov. 2, 1917, promising Jews a homeland in Palestine, the spokesmen said, American Jews invested som $40,000,000 in industrial, commercial and agricultural enterprises in the Holy Land.

The projected conference would be held at Lel Aviv.

JERUSALEM, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The Jewish agency for Palestine replied to a warning by the Palestine Arab defense committee today with the declaration that future killings would not deter the Zionist movement.

The Arab committee on Monday warned Jews in Palestine and in other Arab and Eastern nations to expect grave trouble if the Zionist movement persisted in further immigration into Palestine.

A jewish agency statement said "We see a possibility of fruitful co-operation between Arabs and Jews in Palestine, but an essential condition is the recognition of the basic rights of the Jewish people in the Holy Land."

The statement added that no dangers would deflect the Jews from a policy of returning to Palestine which "is dictated by historical necessity."

There was a widespread belief that a climax was fast approaching in the Palestine crisis, in which disorders in the last 12 weeks are unofficially estimated to have claimed 1,850 casualties, including more than 800 lives.

Well-organized rebel activities have been increasing daily in number and daring. The rebels apparently have been trying to harass vulnerable communication lines and circulate alarmist rumors in order to keep the government on the defensive.

The past success of such a policy necessitated the abandonment of outlying police posts and government offices.

With the return, scheduled for today, of high commissioner, Sir Harold MacMichael from conferences in London, and the arrival of British troop reinforcements, it was believed the military would resume the initiative and reoccupy the country.

The Jews meanwhile looked to the United States for help against possible extinction as a "nation." Widespread interest was aroused by the appeal of a delegation of Jewish leaders in Washington to the British government to continue the policy of permitting Jewish immigration to the Holy Land.

COTTON GINNINGS BY TEXAS COUNTIES PRIOR OCTOBER 1ST

NAVARRO COUNTY LISTED SEVENTH IN GINNINGS BY FEDERAL REPORT

There were 46,390 bales of cotton ginned in Navarro county from the 1938 crop prior to October 1, as compare with 57,667 at the same time last year, according to figures released Saturday by James E. Taylor, special agent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(Spl.)—The Department of Commerce, through the Bureau of the Census, announces the preliminary report on cotton ginned prior to October 1, by counties, in Texas, for the crops of 1938 and 1937. The total for the state was made public on Saturday, October 8. Quantities are in running bales, counting round as half bales. Linters are not included:

Commercial Oil Uncovered Here October 15, 1895

Today may be just another Autumn day but it marks a milestone in the history of Navarro county.

Among other things, October 15 is the date of the birth of the Latin poet Virgil. The year was 70 B. C.

It is the birth day of Toricelli, inventor of the barometer. The year was 1608.

Frederick William IV, King of Prussia, was born on October 15. The year was 1795.

Marie Antoinette was preparing her pretty neck for the guillotine on October 15. The year was 1793.

Corsicana and the surrounding country was only mildly excited about a commercial oil well that began to flow on October 15. It was Navarro county's first. The year was 1895.

Royse City Defeated State Home Lads 12-6

ROYSE CITY, Oct. 15.—The Royse City high eleven took the hardest-fought game played on the local gridiron in years when it defeated the State Home Lads of Corsicana Friday night by a score of 12 to 6.

The locals scored in the first period when Hicks took a pass from Ott after the Bulldogs had advanced the ball inside the 15-yard line on a series of off-tackle plays. The other Royse City tally came in the third, Ott scoring on a plunge after his passes to Hicks had placed the ball on the Lads' 2-yard stripe.

Corsicana counted in the final period on a long pass.

WARM DEBATE ON WEEKEND SHUTINS HEARD SATURDAY

RAIL COMMISSION HOLDS HEARING ON PROPOSED RESTORING PRODUCTION

AUSTIN, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Operators attending a statewide proration hearing here today warmly debated before the state railroad commission whether Saturday and Sunday shutdowns of Texas' oil fields in effect much of this year should be discontinued.

Administrator of Texas' oil and gas conservation statutes, the railroad commission recently had declared Texas was losing its markets to production from abroad and other states and had invited evidence on the subject of lifting the two-day weekly closings.

At the outset Raymond Buck, representing the Barnsdall Oil company, asserted removal of the restrictions would increase "chaotic" conditions in the industry and cause physical waste prohibited by law.

On the other hand Ray Starnes, independent producer of East Texas, told the commission prices for oil were artificially high and warned against disregard of consumers' rights "lest destruction from the public come on our heads."

Arthur Seeligson of San Antonio, declaring recent cuts in the price of crude unjustifiable, strongly opposed discontinuing the closings, saying if it was done return to conditions of 1932 and 1933 was probable.

Increased Demand

Ernest O. Thompson, commission chairman announced the Federal Bureau of mines estimated Texas' share of the national market demand for crude in November was 1,371,000 barrels daily, an increase of 12,000 barrels over the estimate for October.

Lieut.-Gov. Hiram Dow of New Mexico sat in on the hearing.

Buck said that prior to last week the Barnsdall Oil company could operate at a profit but due to price reductions since it now was confronted by the possibility of operating at a substantial loss and reducing employment and payrolls.

"The production of oil in excess of market demand causes physical waste which is prohibited by law," he said. "Lifting the shutdowns would add to chaotic conditions and cause physical waste.

"Demand today is a buyer's market and in the minds of many is weak. If greater supply is allowed, it will build up the stocks of a few at lower prices. If production is restricted, prices will remain firm."

Texas Largest Producer

Commissioner Thompson interjected that only a few strong companies might remain in business if such course was followed.

Buck said Texas had the largest reservoir of oil and should not sacrifice it "because of the poor business-statesmanship of some other states."

"No matter how much Texas increases production, it is bound to share some markets," he said. "It can't control the markets of the world. The commission never will be able to adopt an order excluding all oil importations."

If the shutdowns were removed, he concluded, the day would be hastened when small companies would be absorbed by large ones.

Starnes said crude oil was not worth the price asked for it today in comparison with cotton, wheat and other commodity prices and expressed opinion excessive efforts to maintain unnatural levels would be disastrous.

Can't Get Oil

"If the Saturday and Sunday shutdowns did not prevent physical waste in January, they will not do it in November," he asserted.

The reason East Texas refiners were buying oil in Louisiana, he said, was because they could not get it in East Texas.

"We have held our oil and still the price has been cut," he declared. "If we don't lift the shutdowns, we still will lose markets and will have to get them back with crude at a lower price."

East Texas crude posted at 90 cents a barrel would be wanted by everybody, he added.

Seeligson urged that "work of the past five years" not be tossed overboard, saying that although some states had cooperated in the restriction program while others had not it was unbelievable that any one wanted the industry wrecked.

If the shutins were terminated, he said, chaotic conditions would "give those who want federal control of the industry what they have been waiting for."

Harvey Fremming of Washington, D. C., president of the International Oil Field Workers Union, told the meeting Saturday and Sunday shutdowns were against the public interest.

"I say lift the shutdowns and increase the allowable," he said.

An opposing view was that of R. H. Foster, of the Landreth Production company, who advocated not only retention of the shutdowns but in addition closing all wells 30 to 60 days.

State Senator Joe Hill of Henderson declared "proration is price fixing," that East Texas had been grossly discriminated against, and that if caution was not exercised federal regulation was certain.

Fremming Advocates Lifting Shutdowns

AUSTIN, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Oil men treked to the capital today to debate before the railroad commission whether it should remove or continue in November compulsory closing of wells on Saturdays and Sundays.

The debate began yesterday when Harvey Fremming of Washington, D. C., president of the International Oil Field Workers' Union, advocated lifting the two-day shutdowns. And generally increasing allowables of all Texas fields.

The labor leader said Texas had done more than its share in curtailing production in recent months and as a result had lost some of its normal markets to other states.

He asserted a liberalization of allowables eventually would steady the industry, even though 10-cent oil might result temporarily.

His claim that only federal control of production and all other phases would permanently stabilize the industry did not win the approval of Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the state regulatory body and also of the interstate oil compact commission.

AUSTIN, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The United States bureau of mines today estimated Texas' share of the national market demand for crude oil in November at 1,371,000 barrels daily.

The figure was an increase of 12,000 barrels over the estimate for October and also compared with a basic allowable, not considering deductions for Saturday and Sunday shutdowns of oil fields,of 1,687,619 barrels at the start of the month.

The bureau's estimate was announced by Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, as oil operators gathered for an important statewide proration hearing, at which the most important subject for discussion was whether the two-day weekly closings of fields should be continued.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Long Prairie Club.

The Long Prairie Home Demonstration Club met in regular meeting Thursday, with Mrs. John Mitchell. The project this month was to teach the use of the coping saw. Mrs. Horace Inmon gave the demonstration, and assisted by Mrs. R. J. Henderson, made two sets of sewing bag handles. Several what-not patterns were handed out. Those eligible drew from the birthday box. A number received presents from their "secret friends."

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Horace Inmon at her apartment in the Eugene Ross home.

Refreshments of pineapple sundae, sake and grape juice were served.

Funeral Rites Saturday Morning For Lula Munoz

Funeral rites for Lula Munoz, aged 16 years, who died early Thursday, were held Saturday morning at 8 o'clock from the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery. The rites were conducted by Monsignor V. Graffeo.

Surviving is her mother, Mrs. Mack Munoz, Corsicana.

Corley Funeral Home directed the arrangements.

Road Nears Completion.

KERENS, Oct. 15.—(Spl.)—With 15 new bridges now in use, and only five more to be completed, the road known as the Cut-off to Highway 22, will soon be ready for traffic. Graveling will start in the next 30 days.

BRITISH BUSINESS FACES EXPANSION OF GERMAN TRADE

LINGERING BUSINESS RECESSION IN GREAT BRITAIN FEARED

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Swift German trade expansion on the heels of Nazi political victories in Central Europe is compelling British industrial leaders to face the necessity of a new economic rearmament within the empire.

A lingering business recession is forcing them to take action to prevent what the more pessimistic observers believe might become a serious collapse.

The business community faced two facts:

1—Britain's already declining foreign trade will suffer still further under Germany's robust gains.

2—There are few signs of an upturn in home business which failed to follow the improvement in the United States after last spring's recession.

The attack on the foreign trade problem covers three fronts.

The first consideration is greater trade—especially reciprocal trade within the empire. Britain in effect says to her dominions and colonies "if we buy primary products from you then you must buy manufactured goods from us."

On the second front, Britain wants to have other good customers like the United States, Soviet Russia and Argentina buy more British goods under threats of cutting down purchases in those countries.

The third drive is aimed at new markets in competition in many instances with Germany.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY FROST CIVITAN CLUB MADE LADIES NIGHT

Members of the Frost Civitan Club celebrated their first anniversary Friday with a "Ladies Night" affair with members of the Corsicana and Dallas clubs as special guests and Arthur Cundy, international secretary, as the principal speaker.

Approximately 100 persons attended the meeting which completed the first year of the chartered history of the club. Eight Dallas Civitans were present and approximately 20 members of the Corsicana club and their wives attended.

In his usual forceful manner, Secretary Cundy presented some timely comments on current affairs and problems. Dr. Ed Evans, president of the Frost Civitans, was the toastmaster for the occasion.

A report of the first year of activities by the club was presented by Curtis Patterson and brought well deserved commendation from the visitors and from the field secretary.

Future Farmers Of Kerens Take Prizes

KERENS, Oct. 15.—(Spl.)—Three of the Future Farmers of Kerens, members of the vocational agriculture class of the high school, who had an interesting booth at the Corsicana Livestock and Agriculture Show last week, have sold their prize calves at a profit of 26 per cent.

The above-mentioned booth was awarded sixth place at the show. Among the class members who took five cash prizes were Lake Thornton, poultry; Virgil Lee Graves, calves; Glen Sessions, calves.

CORSICANA, TEX., OCT. 18, 1938

DEMOCRACY DEFEATED

As the truth comes out regarding the latest Great Surrender, it begins to look as if the peace patched up with Hitler at Munich was the biggest piece of secret diplomacy since the World War, and possibly the most mischievous. For it has given the continental dictators such prestige and power that the democracies may not be able to stand against them hereafter.

Walter Lippman and some other top-notch commentators in America and England have concluded that Chamberlain and Daladier saved Europe merely from a war that would not have had to be fought, because Hitler and Mussolini both knew that they could not get away with it if the allied statesmen stood firm. Hitler himself told Chamberlain at Godesberg that he was astonished by British acceptance of the terms he had laid down at Berchtesgaden, and then promptly raised his demands. The spoiled child of Europe, who knows how to get what he wants by throwing strategic tantrums, promptly performed again, and succeeded far beyond his expectations.

"By threatening war, and frightening the people of the world out of their wits," says Lippman, "Hitler made it psychologically possible for Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Daladier to surrender what they never could have surrendered in cold blood. By threatening a war that he knew he would never have to fight, Hitler made the peaceable surrender of Czechoslovakia seem to the people of the world like the triumph of the diplomacy of peace."

The world is finding it out now, too late. The world is realizing also that this surrender, opening the way to limitless conquest by the greatest international menace since Napoleon, was made by the heads of Europe's greatest "democratic" powers without consulting their own parliaments. So democracy wanes in Europe. Now it is all the more important to safeguard it in America.

A CONFERENCE HERE.

Americans will be of two minds, or maybe half a dozen minds, regarding the proposal for an international conference in America, put forth by congressmen at Washington. Such a gathering would be expected to accomplish economic appeasement and "a lasting European peace," and perhaps a few other miracles.

Generally speaking, we are for peace and prosperity among all nations. Generally speaking, too, we Americans are in favor of getting together around tables, to iron out differences of opinion and cooperate in worthy causes. But just now a lot of our people are very doubtful about the value, or even the safety, of such proceedings.

We have seen what happened when only four statesmen got together in a European conference, and are shocked by what our closest friends over there lost in that poker game. Unless our eyes deceive us, Britain and France, while stripping Czechoslovakia for the benefit of the dictators, themselves lost both their shirts and their pants.

It might be safe to hold an international round table here if Hitler and Mussolini were barred. But then, what point would there be to that? They have Europe in their pockets. We couldn't get anything useful from the other fellows, not even their guns—they're probably going to need 'em.

Better wait at least till the results of that famous four-power settlement are clear.

POLITICS

Poor word, which man for evil chooses,
Misunderstands and badly uses.
A word that's uttered night and morn
By sage and fool with equal scorn;
A word now linked with greed and shame,
Theft, graft, deceit and guilt and blame;
To which all degradation sticks
Poor, bruised and battered "politics."

Sick word, whose proper definition
Describes mankind's supremest mission:
"The art of government" today
Is used derisive things to say.
The dictionary page alone
Imputes to it a moral tone,
All others hint of cunning tricks
When they refer to "politics."

Poor "politics" so low descended
From what its maker first intended!
Yet all who utter it in shame
For its base meaning are to blame.
For if men's time and thought were spent
On bettering their government
Then "politics" would shortly sthart
To be a science and an art.

AMERICAN "GESTAPO"

One interesting bit of testimony before the congressional committee investigating "un-American activities" was that of Arnold Gingrich, a New York magazine editor, last week. He said the "German Gestapo Service Section No. 2," a Nazi propaganda organization, was busier than ever in this country. He read the following extract, attributed to a Nazi pamphlet of "instructions for our friends overseas."

"The fundamental aim must always be to discredit conditions in the United States and thus make life in Germany seem enviable by contrast. It will therefore be to the best interests of the Reich to co-operate secretly with all persons or groups who criticize the American system, regardless on what ground. The line to be taken in all such cases is to exaggerate the strength of German and to contrast it with the weakness of democracies."

Whether this document is authentic or not, it accurately describes the usual method of Nazi propaganda. Regardless of actual conditions in Hitler Land, nearly everything there is represented as better than in other countries. The Nazi leaders seem to think they can fool other nations as they fool their own people.

They overlook the enlightening power of a free press. Americans may know more than the German people about what is going on in Germany.

SCHOOL GANGSTERS

A shocking story from Philadelphia tells of a junior high school which has been terrorized by a group of older boys imitating gangsters. Children began staying away from school in large numbers. Then parents petitioned the school board to have their children trasnferred to another school.

The parents said that the gangster group demanded pennies, nickels and dimes from younger pupils as the price of "protection" from beatings, theft of lunches and other mistreatment. The board of education investigated the charges, then appointed a new principal, authorized to demand police protection for the children.

If this is true, a good deal more than police protection is needed. These young racketeers must be stopped short in their criminal career, punished by some intelligent means that will produce a genuine change of thought as well as action.

Parents and educators in that neighborhood need to get together to discover what is wrong in home training, school education and civic life that such a condition could develop to such an advanced stage.

Yes, young people are more precocious now. We've just read of a 17-year-old girl already divorced

THE GOLDEN TORNADO

UNSOLVED CZECH PROBLEM

There is no plan at all for dealing with the Czech refugees pouring into Prague and other central cities from the regions surrendered to the Sudetens, writes G. E. R. Gedye, correspondent for the New York Times. He has found them receiving rough shelter and being fed, but nobody seems to know what is to be done with them. They are not only homeless but penniless, as if they were not mere victimes of an international arrangements, but fugitives from a hostile military invasion.

"In a former banqueting hall," he reports, "the refugees were receiving soup, and long queues were stretched right and left downstairs into the courtyard. Women with fur stoles stood beside roughly clad workers wearing Social Democratic Party badges, and doctors and barristers were next to men whose underno u r i s h e d frames bore the stamp of long years of unemployment.

"Political terrorism is a great leveler, and all these people have been compelled to flee before the Nazis in the clothes in which they stood and with the money they happened to have in the house."

There are tales of wholesale suicide, such as occurred when the Nazis moved into Austria last spring.

Truly, "man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn." All this sort of thing seems so needless and unjustified! The civilized world had reason to expect, when the statesmen at the head of the British and French governments negotiated the peaceful surrender of Sudetenland to the Germans, that the Czechs expelled from their homes and jobs would at least be treated in a civilized way, be given time to make the readjustment and be recompensed for their losses. If the German government will not be fair to them, should not Britain and France, which sacrificed them for their own purposes, help them now?

The French government is s t r a n g l y enthusiastic about its new friendship with Hitler and Mussolini. Can it be that the French, like the Germans, are glad to be "liberated from freedom?"

Some milliner genius now could make a fortune by producing a trick hat that could be turned into all those different shapes by a simple twist of the wrist

That squshy sound you heard the other day was the League of Nations dropping the Versailles pact.

INVEST IN YOUTH

Economic reverses of the past few years have placed grave and unexpected responsibilities on the citizenship.

Many of these responsibilities have been accepted and met even though a certain amount of hardship and inconvenience has been the cost.

One of the greatest and most important of all these responsibilities is to make provision for the future of the youth of the land—the coming generation—the men and women of tomorrow—boys and girls now, but the citizenship of the near future on whom will rest the very foundation of our government and social life.

Neither time nor money should be spared in providing the proper training for the youth of Corsicana and Navarro county. Money properly invested in this early training of youth is insurance that will pay big dividends in the years to come. A boy or girl without the proper environment—allowed to roam at will the alleys and streets unchecked—cannot be expected to become a useful man or woman.

The child is not to blame. Provision must be made whereby youth will be given an even break, at least, to prepare for the future responsibilities that will be his.

The Corsicana YMCA offers much to the youth of our community. It provides a gathering place for the boys and girls with proper supervision. It keeps them occupied along the right lines and offers them the chance to learn that right living and right thinking are the most valuable things in this life.

The YMCA is seeking funds to modernize the building, enlarge the plant and to secure sufficient equipment whereby the service to the boys and girls of the community will be increased many times.

In dollars and cents—what is the value of one child — the value of ten thousand children? Of course youth cannot be actually placed on a dollar and cents basis, but crime costs the citizenship of the United States billions of dollars yearly and most of the criminals are very, very young. One boy or girl made into a useful and honest citizen is worth whatever the cost may be.

When you contribute to the YMCA you are investing in the boys and girls — the men and women of tomorrow on whose shoulders will rest the responsibility of the proper function of our city, county, state and nation.

A few thousand dollars—dollars that must be left behind when the Grim Reaper lays his cold hand on your shoulder—is indeed a small item as compared to the saving the youth of today for the responsibility of citizenship of tomorrow.

Invest in youth. The returns will be great.

INTEREST IN YMCA CAMPAIGN IS BEING SHOWN OVER COUNTY

The county wide scope of the YMCA program has aroused interest throughout Navarro county in the drive for modernization funds, YMCA officials have reported.

Because of this increasing interest and enthusiasm being shown by county leaders, a special county campaign committe has been appointed officials said.

J. Lloyd Smith has been made county chairman. His committee will include J. W. Richards Richland; J. S. Strother Mildred; James E. Taylor Kerens; E. D. McCormick Frost; A. C. Hervey Rice; H. C. Filgo, Dawson; R. B. McCormick, Blooming Grove.

Fewer But Heavier Turkeys For Market San Angelo Area

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Fewer but heavier birds will be marketed by turkey growers of this section this year, C. E. Clark, poultry co-op president, and W. I. Marschall, county agent, say. The birds will also be marketed earlier than usual because of bumper crops which have provided a good feeding season for the flocks.

Grasshoppers and other insects have furnished a good general range or the birds. It is estimated that about half the birds will go to the Thanksgiving market the middle of November; the remainder being held for the Christmas trade in December.

UNITED CHARITIES HAD FEWER REQUESTS FOR SEPTEMBER AID

Reports made at the meeting of the board of the United Charities Thursday morning showed that during September the organization had fewer requests for aid than any time within the past several months, Miss Augusta Helm, executive secretary, has reported.

Thirty-nine cases were recorded on the books of the organization, she said. Requests were made by eight transients; clothing was given to twenty-eight families; and groceries to five. In the month of August groceries were given to twenty-three families. Clients received two operations. Nine cases applied for work only and there were eight consultative cases.

Articles given included food, clothing, medical supplies, school supplies, furniture, wheel chairs, a wooden leg, books, magazines, bathing suits, fuel, and costumes for school plays.

Miss Helm wished particularly to commend the splendid work that has been done by the church organizations and Sunday schools. It was largely through their work that more milk and school supplies were given to underpriviliged school children, she said.

Number Cases Of Sleeping Sickness In Western Navarro

Several cases of sleeping sickness among horses and mules have been reported the past couple of weeks in the western section of Navarro county. Mares are the more susceptible to the ailment. A number of cases have been reported from Blooming Grove sector.

Many animals in the western section of the county have been vaccinated following the outbreak.

SINGLE WATERMELON GROWN CASS COUNTY WAS SOLD FOR $18

ATLANTA, Oct. 14.—(AP)—A single watermelon grown by a Cass county farmer sold for $18 here recently.

The melon, weighing 158 pounds and grown by E. O. Kennedy, was one of a crop of about one hundred, similar melons raised this year on the same farm, Kennedy said his "big ones" this year ranged from 80 to 160 pounds. The largest—the 160 pounder—was purchased by Gov. James V. Allred who sent it to President Roosevelt.

Shipment of these melons to various parts of the country has brought many inquiries and requests for seeds. Atlantans reply, however, that the secret of their titantic size lies not in the seed but in the "good old Cass county soil" in which they are grown.

Kennedy's prize melon was produced four years ago and weighed 183 pounds. The melons have a slightly tougher meat than smaller ones, but are surprisingly sweet, their grower said.

ABILENE WOMAN IS NAMED PRESIDENT OF UDC THURSDAY

EL PASO SELECTED AS 1939 MEETING PLACE; MRS. STEELE RE-ELECTED

Mrs. S. T. Dowda of Abilene was elected president of the Texas division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at the final business session held Thursday afternoon and El Paso was selected as the 1939 meeting place.

A complete revision of the constitution and by-laws of the division was also adopted with some minor amendments. Attention was called to a beautiful bouquet of flowers sent to the convention by Mrs. J. Doak Roberts.

Results of the competition between chapters with less than fifty members were announced as follows: First, Robert E. Lee chapter of Colorado, Texas; second, Tome Greene chapter of Abilene; third, Lloyd Woodall chapter of Taylor.

The annual report of Mrs. W. K. Steele of Corsicana, division treasurer, was presented and approved.

Resolutions Are Adopted.

A number of business resolutions were adopted included the authorization of one new award, another asking chapters to designate the hours of their regular meetings for the information of district and division official visitors; authorization of the preparation of a roster of participants in the battle of San Jacinto who also later joined the Confederate forces; approval of a Texas marker on the Vicksburg battlefield. Another called upon the motion picture producers of the nation to present a more youthful protrayal of southern characters, both white and colored, and proffered the services of both the division and general organizations to this end.

The final report of the credentials committee showed the voting strength of the convention was 118 which included 35 chapters represented by 67 delegates, and in addition 17 state officers, two honorary president, five standing committee chairmen, and 11 special committee heads.

Convention officers also reported that the wreath made at the memorial services Thursday morning would be placed on the grave of Mrs. Fannie Halbert, first president of the Navarro chapter. It was stated this was the custom of the organization to honor the first president of the host chapter.

Officers Are Named.

The election of officers was the final order of business and resulted as follows, with no contested races:

President, Mrs. S. T. Dowda, Abilene.

First vice-president, Mrs. I. B. McFarland, Houston.

Second vice-president, Miss Willa Stephenson of Dallas.

Third vice-president, Mrs. W. G. Robinson of Rosebud.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. B. A. Hastings of Columbus (re-elected).

Treasurer, Mrs. W. K. Steele, Corsicana (re-elected).

Registrar, Mrs. David Jones Pickle, Austin (re-elected).

Historian, Mrs. J. P. Greenwood, Dallas, (re-elected).

Custodian, Mrs. Robert F. Bacon, Austin, (re-elected).

Recorder of Crosses, Mrs. W. W. Turner of Webster (re-elected).

Chaplain, Mrs. John M. Wilcox of Houston (automatically as retiring president).

Poet Laureate, Mrs. Bessie Hale Everett, Weatherford.

Mrs. Dowda was introduced and then nominated Miss Annie Murphy of Abilene as corresponding secretary, and the selection was approved.

Appointments by the general organization were approved by the convention as follows:

Regent of the Texas room, Confederate Museum at Richmond, Mrs. Oscar Barthold of Weatherford.

Regent Texas Confederate Museum at Austin, Mrs. Joe Rowe, Austin.

By a unanimous vote, Mrs. Wilcox, retiring president, was elected an honorary president of the division.

Delegates from El Paso invited the convention to hold its forty-third meeting there in 1939 and the offer was accepted just before adjournment.

Convention Closes.

Concluding their three day convention the United Daughters of the Confederacy met Thursday evening at the First Baptist church for a program of music and reminiscences. Mrs. M. D. L. Adams, historian of the Navarro chapter and Mrs. J. P. Greenwood, division historian, presided.

The first musical number on the program, a violin solo, was played by Mrs. Finis Farr, accompanied by Mrs. Minnie Sutton. Following Mrs. Farr's solo, the entire assembly arose to salute the United States, Confederate and Texas flags.

Mrs. A. B. Lawrence, division poet laureate, read her original poem, an account in blank verse of a true incident that happened to her father during the Civil war.

Mrs. Greenwood was introduced to the delegates and in turn introduced Mrs. Josephine Obenchain, nationally known dramatic reader. Mrs. Obenchain gave an adaptation of Harris Dickenson's "Marse Jeff Davis" in negro dialect. The monologue had been written from the Collier's magazine story by Mr. Dickson. The reading was supplemented with a vocal solo, "Massa's In De Cold, Cold Ground" by Mrs. Joel Trimble, accompanied on the piano by Miss Janice Bell. Mrs. Obenchain returned for an encore and for her second reading gave an interpretation of an old plantation negro.

Mrs. L. S. Cooper was the second vocal soloist presented during the evening: She was accompanied on the piano by Edward F. Hearn.

Following the installation of the newly elected division officers the meeting was adjourned.

During the evening the many courtesies which had been extended the delegats during their Corsicana convention were acknowledged by the division secretary and a special note of thanks was given the Navarro Chapter. The entire Navarro chapter were introduced individually to the delegates.

MRS. S. T. DOWDA

At the final business session of the United Daughters of the Confederacy Thursday afternoon, Mrs. S. T. Dowda of Abilene was named president, succeeding Mrs. John M. Wilcox of Houston.

DIVISION OF ROAD, BRIDGE FUND MADE BY COMMISSIONERS

LIMIT TRUCK LOADS TRAVELING ON COUNTY ROADS TO 10,000 POUNDS

Navarro county commissioners court Friday at a recessed meeting rescinded their former action in the division of the road and brdge fund and met the demands of Commissioner T. P. Hayes of Corsicana for 29 per cent of the unds. The court also voted a load limit for hauling on county roads, authorized the borrowing of money for the general fund and allowed the payment of pressing current claims against Commissioner C. O. Slaughter's precinct 3.

Commissioners' Precinct 3 fund is overdrawn and not Precinct 2 as appeared several days ago due to a typographical error. The correction is made. Precinct 3 is involved due to an old debt of a number of years' standing being charged against it, some of which has been paid in recent years.

All members of the court with the exception of Commissioner Hayes were present at Friday's recessed meeting.

Paul H. Miller, county judge, and E. Y. Cunningham, county auditor, were authorized to borror $5,000 for the general fund.

On motion of Commissioner J. O. Sessions, seconded by Commissioner J. N. George, the action taken recently setting aside 27 per cent of the road and bridge fund to precinct 1 and allowed Precincts 2, 3 and 4 a total of 24 1-3 per cent each, was rescinded, and Precinct 1 was given 29 per cent and the other three 23 2-3 per cent each, the same percentages as in vogue the past year. Commissioners Sessions and George voted "aye" and Commissioner Slaughter voted "No."

Commissioner Slaughter made a motion, seconded by Commissioner George, that a gross load limit of 10,000 pounds for trucks, etc., hauling on county roads, be set. All voted aye. It was brought out in the discussion that many heavily loaded trucks use the county roads, frequently to escape the possibility of arrest on the highways on overloading charges.

The commissioners stated that it was a frequent occurrence that the heavily loaded trucks break through bridges on the county roads, with an attendant heavy expense to the road and bridge fund for replacement.

On motion of Sessions, seconded by George, the "pressing current bills" of Precinct 3, held up at the regular meeting Monday, were ordered paid. All voted aye to the motion.

SECRETARY WALLACE SUGGESTS PRESENT PROGRAM TO FARMERS

By PAUL SHOEMAKER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace urged corn belt farmers today to fight for the "best farm program agriculture ever had" and cautioned them to beware of substitutes offered with the sole purpose of destroying the present farm act.

Wallace told a meeting of farm leaders and AAA committeemen the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, while not perfect, does represent a complete charter of farm equality and is capable of being improved with experience.

The secretary credited the farm act with preventing a big crop in farm cash income and farm buying power. The drop in income, he said, had been held to about 12 per cent of last year's total and the reduction of buying power to 9 per cent.

"In the face of a business situation in which factory employment and payrolls have been down over 30 per cent," he said, "to hold farm income so nearly steady is a real achievement."

Wallace praised farmers who co-operated under AAA saying: "You have done well to make your program play so big a part in ending incipient depression, and in putting the country back on the road to prosperity."

Outstanding among substitutes suggested for the AAA, Wallace said, is price-fixing. He said the advocates of this substitute urge setting prices at cost of production, or parity, or some higher figure and assert all the bother about allotments, worksheets, compliance and payments could be eliminated. He made it clear he was not opposed to price-fixing in itself, but added that any proposal that a fixed price be paid on an unlimited quantity of goods was unsound.

"No business organization anywhere has ever been able to fix a price while exercising no control whatever over production," he declared. "Look out for price-fixing combined with unlimited production unless you want to get hurt."

MRS. EMMA TOWNSEND, FOUNDER LOCAL UDC CHAPTER, HONOREE OF AN APPRECIATION DINNER

Mrs. Emma Townsend, founder of the Navarro Chapter, U. D. C. No. 108, was honored on Thursday evening, October 13, at 6 o'clock with an appreciation dinner at the First Christian church, given by the Chamber of Commerce, as the outstanding social feature of the U. D. C. convention.

A more beautiful picture has seldom been presented in the way of table decorations than on this occasion. Each long table, laid in snowy white, was centered with a large and most artistic arrangement of pink roses and queen's wreath in a white pottery bowl, and smaller, corresponding containers of roses at each end, with queen's wreath gracefully trailing from the center bouquet to the smaller ones.

The speakers' table, at which Mrs. Townsend was seated with her son, Wilmot Townsend, and great-grandson, John Glass, on one side, and her granddaughter, Mrs. E. L. N. Glass of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Glass' mother, Mrs. Percy Townsend on the other, was similarly decorated, but the containers were in blue pottery, which were especially effective with the pink flowers.

Mrs. J. S. Callicutt gave a beautifully worded and impressive invocation, which was followed by two lovely and appropriate voice selections by Mrs. Isabelle Melton, popular soprano, accompanied by Mrs. O. W. Holmes. Mrs. Melton's contributions were "A Brown Bird is Singing," which she dedicated to Mrs. Townsend, and "If All Those Endearing Young Charms,"

Frank Drane Toastmaster.

At the conclusion of the delectable two-course dinner, Mrs. Kirk Steele, convention chairman, told the purpose of this occasion, and presented Mr. Frank Drane, Mrs. Townsend's dearest friend and former pupil, whom she had chosen to pay tribute to her, and to preside as toastmaster.

Mr. Drane expressed his great pleasure in having been given this honor, and paid tribute to her as his third preceptor. In his talk he recited a poem that Mrs. Townsend had taught him as a schoolboy, that had had great influence upon his thinking, and gave another from Webster's dictionary, which was the third definition Webster gave to the word, "Wisdom," which had also influenced his thinking.

Mr. Drane stated that he was delighted to be the messenger to bring to those present and to Mrs. Townsend another tribute of honor that had been bestowed upon her, and that was that her name had been selected for the honor roll of the Navarro County Foundation, at a recent meeting of the board.

Mr. Drane presented W. P. McCammon, who paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Townsend as an educator, as a citizens and as a friend.

He remarked that it was impossible to tell in a few words how much Mrs. Townsend has meant to Corsicana and Navarro county through her interest in education, and that she would never know how much she has meant to the city schools.

As a citizen, he pictured her as one of those high type, cultured citizens. One who had given of her time and her means in every helpful, uplifting cause; and as a neighbor, Mr. McCammon said that Mrs. Townsend had been the sweetest, truest friend and neighbor he and Mrs. McCammon had ever had, and added, "who is there in Corsicana to whom she has not been a neighbor and a friend?"

Before presenting Mrs. H. E. Wassell of Austin, the principal speaker of the evening, Mr. Drane said that a life like Mrs. Townsend's touched and influenced the life of everyone, just as a pebble thrown into a pool sends its waves to the uttermost shore.

Mrs. Wassell held the rapt attention of the 150 or more present with her tribute to Mrs. Townsend as a teacher and a friend, the text of which follows:

Mrs. Wassell Speaks.

Daughters of the Confederacy and Friends:

Others tonight have spoken of Mrs. Townsend as a neighbor and as a citizen, and of the many worthwhile things she has accomplished for the welfare of her community; I will speak of her as teacher and friend.

Mrs. Townsend is first and foremost and above all, a teacher, exercising a God-given gift, the ability to impart knowledge to others, in a most interesting way.

To the natural-born teacher, which Mrs. Townsend is, teaching is no effort, for she is so full of knowledge that it bubbles up and spills over spontaneously.

She has a great unquenchable thirst for knowledge, and for truth. I have known her at various times to spend $25 for a single book that contained only one statement or truth she did not already know. In two or three instances she has given twice as much for a book, and most of us think $5 a big price to pay for a book whose entire contents are unknown to us. She said to me last spring, "there is so much to learn, and I'm learning more and more every day." Mrs. Townsend studies and reads constantly, often far into the night, adding to her already great store of wisdom. And this at 86 years!

Her first actual teaching experience was in 1872 when Captain Townsend opened a school in Corsicana at the urgent invitation of friends. They had been married a few months when they moved to Corsicana. She assisted Captain Townsend during the next 10 years until the public schools were opened in 1882, and Captain Townsend was elected principal. Mrs. Townsend then conducted a private school for five years. In 1897 she took her daughter to National Park Seminary in Washington, D. C., and remained there as a member of the faculty, teaching the whole year.

Her First Teacher.

Some years later she again opened a private school for a while and it was this school that I attended, with Mrs. Townsend as my first teacher. An interesting fact to me, in this connection, is that my own mother, Lila Kerr, and my auntie, Mother Texana Kerr, (Mrs. J. J. McClellan) had also been taught by Mrs. Townsend when they attended Captain Townsend's first school.

Mrs. Townsend is a thinker, not accepting the predigested thoughts of others, but thinking a thing through to the end—reasoning it out and coming to her own conclusions. An incident in her childhood will show how early she began to think for herself. In those early days (she was born in 1852) the father read aloud daily from the Bible. Her father was reading from the first chapter of Genesis and had read, "And God said let there be light, and there was light," which was the third verse; he continued on through several verses to the 14th where God made the sun and the moon, and she asked quick as a flash, "Well, what light was that that God made first, before He made the sun and moon?" Her parents were shocked and said, "Sh-hush—little girls must not ask questions like that."

Besides her teaching activities there were three other dominant interests in her life, each one so strong that none overshadowed or pushed the others into the background, but all three ran along side by side as positive active forces for good, and for progress in her community.

Pioneer Kindergarten.

Before Mrs. Townsend heard the name of Froebel or the word kindergarten, she was using just such methods with her own little ones. When the first heard of the kindergarten she immediately began to work for one in Corsicana. This has been and is one of the dominant interests in her life to secure the kindergarten training for little children, to lay the foundation for character, independence and good citizenship early in life. She finally succeeded in getting a kindergarten in 1898 which was known all over the United States and was written about in newspapers and magazines because of a memorial sent to the Texas legislature. She still holds the kindergarten lot, in trust for the little children of Corsicana and says if she lives 10 years longer she will have a building on that lot.

Mrs. Townsend has been a promoter or a supporter of every progressive movement in Corsicana since she moved here in 1872.

Another big interest was and is to raise the status of woman. She is a strong advocate of equal rights for women and has belonged to this movement for years—first fighting and working that women might have the right to vote, and now that they may be equal under the law. And here Mrs. Townsend always quotes from the Bible a verse we all know: "So God created man in His own image, male and female created He, thence and....gave them (both of them) dominion over all things." None of these things have been easy to accomplish for she has been years ahead of her times and in those early days met with strong opposition and criticism. "It takes a faith sublime to voice a truth before its time." Mrs. Townsend worked and fought for the kindergarten, and for the vote for women. I have heard her say "I was born and bred in war times and it is my nature to resent wrongs and injustices and I fight for what it right."

Teaching Health.

Her third great interest is the strongest, and is her greatest contribution to the welfare of the human race, teaching health. Her own original health method has received the highest words of praise in the English language by leaders, thinkers and prominent people all over the country.

Mrs. Townsend has taught classes of health in many places besides Corsicana, and many other towns. She has taught classes in Baylor College, the Chautauqua in Boulder, Colo.; Sewanee, Tenn.; Birmingham, Ala.; Anniston, Ala.; Cleveland, Ohio; Chautauqua, N. Y., and New York City. She still receives telegrams and letters from these places asking her to come back again.

She has been a close student for years of anatomy, physiology and hygiene. And has stressed all these years breathing correctly and in rhythm with the universe. How many, many times have I and others heard her say, "Breathe, breathe the breath of life, don't die until you are ready to." A letter from her recently said, "the more I learn, the more I realize that the breath is the healing power."

When she was a little child, she said "I was amazed when I learned that a doctor charged a fee when a patient died. I had thought doctors were paid to keep people well."

Teaches How to Be Well.

She taught Sunday school for five years and that deep study of the Bible was what made her believe in teaching people how to be well, to keep fit, teaching them health, for that was Jesus' teaching and command. "When you go into a house, if any be sick heal them." Jesus evidently considered that the first duty (but who either of preachers or laymen knows how to follow this command.)

Wherever there was sickness and anyone needed and called for her, Mrs. Townsend has always gone to them, healing and teaching as Jesus did. Peter said of Jesus "He went about doing good, and healing" and this can be said so truly of Mrs. Townsend.

In fact, many verses ina the Bible make me think of Mrs. Townsend. This one, "But he that is greatest among you shall serve you." Putting aside all the other things she has accomplished she is greatest among us, by the very vitue of having served her fellow man, by day and by night, for years, nursing, waiting upon and healing the sick, and the half has not been told. Her vision is of a race of people with minds divorced from disease, sickness and medicine.

It would seem that one who has led such a busy, useful life would not have time for friends, many of us who are busy plead that as an excuse, but not so Mrs. Townsend. Her house is always open to friends and strangers. There one will receive a warm welcome and gracious hospitality.

Always Giving.

She has a great capacity for friendship and is always giving, giving of herself, her knowledge, her time to her friends.

Charles Kingsley said "It is only the greathearted who can be a true friend."

Do you remember that old nursery rhyme which went like this:

"I do not like you, Dr. Fell, the reason why I cannot tell, but, I do not like you, Dr. Fell." Many times we do not know why we "like or dislike" a person. As a child I didn't reason one way or the other. I knew I "liked" Mrs. Townsend, as indeed, all children do. Later on in my teens when I had a course of lessons in health with her, I "liked" her more and more. Still later, when I was a woman grown, I admired and honored her for the things she stood for, was fighting for and had already accomplished.

Brilliant Mind.

I appreciated her brilliant mind and her wonderful memory which has made her a storehouse of wisdom, a real fount of knowledge. The more I was with her, the more I loved her, and the more I came to know the great fine soul of her. It is this splendid bigness of soul which has given her a broad, kindly outlook upon life, a real feeling of the brotherhood of man, and a tolerant attitude toward the religious views and faiths of others. She pointed out to me the truths contained in other religions and told me that no one religion, nor denomination is big enough to hold all the truth about God; it takes them all, and then we fall short of the whole truth. I am so grateful to her for many things—teaching me health, teaching me tolerance, teaching me that everyone has unused powers within himself, and for being a continual spur and inspiration to study more, search further for truth about God, and the meaning of life, and what she has done for and been to me, she has been to many, many others, who rise up and say: "Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excelleth them all."

Truly Mrs. Townsend has:

"Lived in a house by the side of the road, where the races of men go by,
The men who are good, the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
She has not sat in the scorner's seat, nor hurled the cynic's ban,
But has lived in a house by the side of the road,
And been a friend to man."

Speaks of Loyalty.

Mrs. H. F. Marr, as president of the Navarro chapter, spoke of Mrs. Townsend's loyalty, saying that if she possessed one quality above all others, it was loyalty—her loyalty and devotion to Texas and Texas history, although she was not a Texan-born, but a Georgian. She further lauded her as a neighbor, a true friend and one who is interested in everthing for the good of the community.

At this point Mrs. Townsend rose and expressed her deep appreciation for this great honor that had been bestowed upon her, and how the whole affair had been kept a secret from her.

Mrs. C. F. Harris, prominent U D. C. member, member of the Woman's Press Association, poet, writer and editor of "Dallas Life," asked if she might add a tribute in verse of her own, which applied so aptly to Mrs Townsend:

Each day I claim the God-head that is mine,
Each night and morn I drink of kingly wine;
For well I know I'm part of life divine;
Just as dim stars which in far heavens shine.

Mrs. John M. Wilcox, retiring president of the Texas Division, U. D. C., presented her officers, and the newly-elected president, and Miss Willa Stephenson, Dallas, the third vice president, who is organizer of the Children of the Confederacy chapters, announced that a chapter had been organized in Corsicana, and as a tribute to Mrs. Townsend had been named the Emma Townsend chapter.

A beautiful vase filled with lovely chrysanthemums was presented Mrs. Townsend as a gift of love from Mrs. H. H. Bonner and daughters, Misses Mabel and Helen Bonner, during the dinner hour.

CORSICANA OIL MEN PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART IN ACTIVITIES

Oil men from Corsicana play a vital part in the year-round activities of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, which opens its ninth annual three-day convention in Tulsa, Oklahoma, Wednesday, October 19, with approximately a thousand leading petroleum industry operators from all over the country gathered here for the occasion, according to C. E. Buchner of Tulsa, executive manager of the association.

"The leadership of these men has played an important part in the development of this organization from the handful who formed it nine years ago to its present position of policy-forming body for a great share of the oil industry," he declared.

In addition to many individual members of the organization from this city, Mr. Buchner said that the following are officials of the Independent Petroleum Association of America:

J. L. Collins, J. R. Pearson and R. L. Wheelock, all of Wheelock and Collins, and H. R. Stroube and W. C. Stroube, both of Stroube and Stroube, each of whom is a director of the association.

Cotton Consumed During September Show Decline

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The census bureau reported today cotton consumed during September totaled 534,037 bales of lint and 70,991 of linters, compared with 561,406 and 70,218 during August this year, and 601,305 and 74,167 during September last year.

Cotton on hand Sept. 30 was reported held as follows:

In consuming establishments, 1,107,388 bales of lint and 263,389 of linters, compared with 1,052,631 and 270,281 on Aug. 31 this year, and 986,249 and 169,031 on September 30 last year.

In public storage and at compresses, 13,013,410 bales of lint and 97,189 of linters, compared with 9,825,616 and 96,249 on Aug. 31 this year, and 6,880,029 and 53,389 on Sept. 30 last year.

A. AND M. COLLEGE MAKES BID FOR ONE NEW COTTON PLANTS

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The Agricultral and Mechanical College of Texas took advantage of a visit recently of W. B. Van Arsdel, representative of the Bureau of Chemistry and soils, to make a strenuous bid for location of one of the four proposed million dollar cotton research laboratories in the state in general and at College Station in particular.

Van Arsdel, making a tour of Texas to gather material for a report to the U. S. Department of Agriculture locating committee and Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, inspected the A. and M. campus and facilities.

In presenting the claims for Texas as the location for the laboratory the state's importance as an agricultural state was stressed in a brief presented by Col. Ike Ashburn, assistant to President T. O. Walton of A. and M.

"First in total acreage of principal crops in the United States, Texas holds many 'firsts' in production," the brief recited. "Among these are first in cotton and cottonseed production, in beef cattle, sheep and wool, goats and mohair and mule production.

"Likewise Texas leads in grain sorghum and sweet sorghum for forage and hay. First also in production of spinach, early cabbage and onions comes Texas.

"Peanut and sweet potato production are widespread in Texas, with at least two-thirds of its area suitable for growing these crops.

"In addition there is the great importance of a vast wheat crop in the plains country and the rapidly growing citrus industry in the Rio Grande Valley. Pecans likewise constitute a great money crop for the 501,000 farm homes of Texas."

Land Is Offered.

Specific claims of the college for location of the laboratory were predicated upon an offer of the board of directors to deed to the government, free of cost, "such land as may be needed or building sites, to make available research facilities now operative at the college, including the research library, to tender full co-operation of employes of the A. and M. College in the furtherance of these important investigations and to furnish to the federal government utilities and facilities such as power, water, etc., at actual cost to the college."

The brief further set forth that the A. and M. College is the duly recognized and constituted agency of the state and federal governments for agricultural research and the dissemination of agricultural information.

The A. and M. experiment station for 50 years has conducted agricultural research and particularly has emphasized research related both directly and indirectly to cotton, the brief said. The work of the engineering experiment station also was outlined in the brief and assurance was given that the entire research personnel of the college would be placed at the disposal of the government to assist in any way possible. Proximity of the college to Houston and Dallas industrial centers also was set forth.

Centerville Defeats Corsicana Reserves Friday Afternoon

Centerville High school football team administered a 13-6 defeat to the Corsicana Reserves at Centerville Friday afternoon.

The contest was played in connection with the annual Leon County Fair in progress at the present time.

This was the first game of the season for the Reserves.

POWELL DEFEATED EMHOUSE FRIDAY IN GAME AT POWELL

INTERESTING SIX-MAN FOOTBALL GAME UNREELED WITH SCORE 12-6

Powell's six-man football team made the Emhouse Pirates walk the plank Friday afternoon at Powell, dunking the Buccaneers in the briny drink to the tune of 12-6. Both teams showed good defensive work, the tightening up of Powell's defense being the outstanding development in that team since their last game, played two weeks ago against Emhouse.

The first quarter saw one touchdown marked up for Powell, the ball being carried over by Boots Jackson on an end run after he had scooped up a long pass from Mickey Bancroft to put the team in scoring position. Emhouse's touchdown, on a pass from Elkins to Harry Drain who was waiting in the end zone, tied the game at 6-all during second quarter, their attempted kick after touchdown having been smothered by Bicycle Barry. Winning play for Powell came when the ball went over to the Panthers on their own 20-yard line with 30 seconds to go in the first half, Bancroft faking a play to Lazy Joe Quinn, struggled through the Emhouse line, disposed of a lonely safety man, and, behind three other Powell players who had blocked a path for him, galloped down a delightfully empty field for 60 yards to cross the goal line as the whistle blew.

No Scores in Second.

No scoring was done in the second half, the teams apparently having each other stymied until near the end when Emhouse drove to scoring position, only to be balked by the timekeeper's signal.

Leon (Catfish) Aven, Joe (Lazy) Quinn, Little Dude Massey, Bicycle Barry and Dubart Davis, Powell stalwarts who ate pounds of dirt during the hour and a half the game lasted, are to be credited with the large improvement in Powell's defense. Good blocking and relentless tackling kept Emhouse's most dangerous players strictly in place.

The game was refereed by Melvin Taylor, superintendent at Emhouse, and the umpire was a former Oddfellows Home football player.

CLEARS STUFFY HEAD

Helps Prevent the Development of Colds, too

NOW, it's easy to relieve head cold discomfort. Just put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril and feel the tingle as Va-tro-nol's stimulating medication reduces the swollen membranes, clears away the clogging mucus, helps to keep the sinuses from being blocked by the cold—lets you breathe again.

NEXT TIME, don't wait until your head is all stuffed up. At the first warning sneeze or sniffle, use Va tro-nol at once—it helps to prevent many colds from developing.

Va-tro-nol is specialized medication—expressly designed for the nose and upper throat where most colds start. Used in time, it stimulates Nature's own defenses to fight off many a cold, or to throw off head colds in their early stages.

Beauty Diary of Edna Kent Forbes

TOILET VINEGARS

Miss Forbes today gives one of the formulas for the old time toilet vinegars, valuable today as it was generations ago.

Many a beauty of past generations attributed her lovely skin to the brews she made from the herbs, plants, plus other homely materials of which every household was well supplied. Recipes for lotions, salves, tonics, vinegars; in fact, remedies needful and luxurious, had been handed down from generation. Many of them are marvelous too. It is so convenient for us now to purchase everything all prepared for us, and we usually prefer to have it so; however, nothing yet takes the place of the old time toilet vinegars.

E. K. Forbes.

Their actual purpose is that of being cooling and refreshing, but they do more than that. If you are fagged out, feet sore and tired, a quick rubbing of the soles with one of these aromatic vinegars will make you feel wonderfully fresh. You would also include your face and hands, having the benefit of soothing treatment, that acted as a mild astringent, a trifle bleaching, while the tonic effect of the aroma gave you just that little job needed to bring up your energy again.

A delightful one is made as follows: Take a few dried leaves of rosemary, mint, sugar, and lavendar flowers, add some grated nutmeg, a few cloves, and a pinch of camphor. Tie these in a small bag and drop in several ounces of alcohol, and cover the jar used. Next day, squeeze the bag to get out all fragrance, and add eight ounces of plain white vinegar, let stay for a week, also well covered. Keep in a warm place meantime, then remove bag and decant to bottles.

B. F. Cutting your hair should not have spoiled its natural tendency to curl. You might try training it a bit. After each shampoo, and while wet, form waves just as you recall the natural ones were. Push these up over the head, cover the head with a net cap, and leave to dry. Once encouraged, these waves will deepen and very soon you will have the same effect as when your hair was long. Very dry atmosphere will change the tendency of the hair, and when there is moisture enough in the air again, the curl will return.

If you have any beauty problems you cannot solve, write for Edna Kent Forbes' three NEW beauty booklets: (1) "Fifteen Minutes a Day for Beauty. (2) "The Finer Points of Beauty." (3) "Eating and Bathing for Beauty." Send ten cents (in stamps) for EACH booklet, to pay for printing and handling and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope (s.a.s.e.). Address Edna Kent Forbes, c-o this paper.

Small Still Taken In Eureka Raid

A small still was confiscated in a raid Friday afternoon by county officers near Eureka. A negro was arrested. About one gallon of corn whiskey was seized along with the still and a quantity of mash.

Members of the raiding party were Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse and Deputies David Castles and S. B. Jordan.

Large Lemon Grown.

Mrs. E. H. Simmons, who lives at the corner of West Eleventh avenue and South Thirty-first street, brought to the Daily Sun office Friday afternoon a lemon sent to her by her daughter, Miss Addie Lou Simmons, teacher in the Del Rio public schools. The lemon was grown near Del Rio and measured 14 inches in circumference.

FARMER SLAIN AND SINTON MAN LATER CHARGED IN MURDER

WHARTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Otto Schiller, about 30, farmer living three miles east of Boling, was shot to death late Sunday, and J. R. Dagley, 60, of Sinton, surrendered to officers a short time later.

The shooting was witnessed by families of both men, according to Deputy Sheriff C. R. Seibrecht.

Schiller, who had been a tenant on a farm owned by Dagley's wife for several months had been asked to leave but refused, Dagley told officers, and though he declined to elaborate on his statement, officers believed the slaying was an outgrowth of this dispute.

"I had to do something I hated to do," Siebrecht quoted Dagley as saying.

One charge from a shotgun struck Schiller in the left arm and side, hitting his heart and killing him instantly, according to Justice W. R. Davis, who conducted an inquest.

A murder charge against Dagley was filed.

After the shooting Dagley drove to Boling, picked up his family and drove to Wharton to surrender. Meantime Wharton officers, who received word of the shooting, had left for the farm. Finding no officers in Wharton, Dagley returned to the farm where he surrendered.

Schiller is survived by his wife and four small children.

CHAIRMAN DIES IN SHARP ADDRESS ON UNAMERICAN TREND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Chairman Dies (D-Tex) called the house committee investigating un-American activities back into session today, to continue what he called its race "against steadily diminishing funds."

The committee's "paltry sum" of $25,000, Dies said in a radio (CBS) speech last night, is almost gone and the committee still has to work without the government cooperation "which we had every right to expect."

He charged particularly that the labor department fell down on its duty of deporting persons proved to be alien communists, Nazis and fascists.

Dies praised President Roosevelt's announced intention to do something with reference to foreign spies, and added:

"The government can certainly stop communistic activities on government projects, which are financed by the hard earned money of loyal and patriotic Americans."

Three Still Missing After Snow Storm

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 17.—(AP)—One of four persons missing in Montana after the first snowstorm of the season returned safely early today and searches went on for the others.

Sheriff Mike Bergan of White Sulphur Springs reported Cecil Watt, 32-year-old hunter, reached his home at Clyde Park, Mont., safely. Watt had become lost while hunting in the Castle Mountain area.

Snow Air Travel Disrupted.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Transcontinental air travel across Southern Wyoming was disrupted today as the western half of the state lay blanketed under the season's first widespread fall of snow.

Wheat Declines.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Seven-eighths of a cent a bushel sag of Chicago wheat values took place today chiefly owing to dearth of either speculative or export demand.

The United States wheat visible supply total showed a slight increase, and world shipments fell off somewhat.

December delivery of corn touched a new low-price record for the year.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1-2 to 3-4 lower compared with Saturday's finish. Dec. 64 3-4 7-8, May 65 7-8 66, corn 1-8 to 3-8 down, Dec. 44 1-4 3-8, May 47 5-8 3-4, and oats unchanged to 1-8 off.

Charge Medical Societies Violate Anti-Trust Laws

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Justice James M. Proctor began selection of a federal grand jury today to hear Justice Department charges that the American Medical Association and the District of Columbia Medical Society have violated the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

The government's case is based on alleged attempts by the medical organizations to discourage the activities of Group Health Association, Inc., an organization which provides medical services to government employes.

The medical organizations are accused of conspiring to restrain trade.

British Troops Planning to Crush Arab Resistance

JERUSALEM, Oct. 17.—(AP)—British troops deployed to positions throughout Palestine today as a preliminary to a huge drive to crush Arab resistance to Britain's rule in the Holy Land.

Some quarters feared the Arab rebellion was a threat to the peace of the whole Near East.

The new campaign against the Arab was ordered yesterday immediately after the return from London of Sir Harold Alfred MacMichael, British high commissioner and commander-in-chief in Palestine.

GOVERNENT CALLS ON CIRTUS INDUSTRY TO ASSIST ITSELF

ASKS TO DEVISE PROGRAM FOR ORDERLY MARKETING HUGE CROP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The government called upon the nation's citrus industry today to devise a program looking to the orderly marketing of this season's record crop.

F. R. Wilcox, chief of the agricultural adjustment administration division of marketing and marketing agreements, told a conference of citrus leaders government assistance should not be considered the "lead horse" in solving the industry's problems.

The government, he said, was willing to supplement the industrys' own efforts, but was unable to do more.

The conference was called by the department after reports from he three major producing areas indiccated the 1938-39 crop would be far in excess of last year's production.

More than 50 government and industry men attended the opening session. Texas citrus co-operatives, independent growers, canners and handlers were represented by these official delegates: F. B. Holland, Mission; F. L. Hall, Weslaco; Ray Stephenson, LaFeria, and Grant Montgomery, Alamo.

T. M. Meldon, Mission, Texas, was expected tonight.

Wilcox said the department was not in position yet to discuss the possibility of applying to citrus fruit a plan to make agricultural products available to low income families at reduced prices.

No Citrus Plan to Offer.

He expressed hope Florida would be able to establish a marketing agreement to control out of state shipments. Agreements already are in operation in California and Texas.

He and other federal men said the government had no citrus plan to offer, and called upon the delegates for ideas.

S. R. Smith, AAA marketing specialist, said citrus buying power was about 10 per cent less than last year.

"This year the opening prices prices are so low," he declared, "that it makes us shudder to think what the prices will be the rest of the year unless the industry can do something."

The conference recessed for luncheon after speeches by the government men. AAA representatives said the afternoon session would be restricted to the official delegates, who were expected to submit reports on each area's citrus problems.

The agriculture department's October 1 crop report predicted a grapefruit production of 40,700,000 boxes, an increase of 10,000,000 over last season and of 4,000,000 over the 1927-36 average.

For all orange varieties except California Valencias, the department forcast a crop of 49,900,000 boxes, compared with 45,550,000 of the same varieties last year.

As a preliminary step, a committee of Florida growers met here last week to discuss the establishment of a marketing agreement to regulate out of state shipments of citrus fruit. Texas and the California-Arizona area now operate under agreements.

Corsicana Couple Marry In Navasota Wednesday Evening

The following account of the marriage of Miss Louise McKinney and John Rutherford Stough of this city, which took place in Navasota October 5, has been received by friends and will be of interest to this young couple's many friends:

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. McKinney of Corsicana announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Louise, to John Rutherford Stough, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stough, also of that city.

The wedding was quietly solemnized Wednesday evening at twilight at the Methodist parsonage with the pastor, Rev. W. C. Pope, reading the service in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends.

The bride was attired in an attractive frock of dark gray with harmonizing accessories. Mrs. C. C. Stephenson of College Station, was matron of honor, and best man was Charles Lewis, also of College Station.

Mrs. Stough, popular member of the young social set in Corsicana, is a graduate of the Corsicana High school. Mr. Stough, a graduate of A. and M. College the past June, holds the position of manager of the A. and M. Co-Operative Home in this city.

Besides the two attendants in the wedding, the out of town guests for the wedding were John McKinney, J. R. Griffin, Hugh Graham, Mr. Goodlae, all of College Station, and Ray Pierce of Baton Rouge, La., and Mrs. Addie Lillian Furr of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Stough will be at home to their friends in Navasota.

Tacky Party Great Success Friday Night At White's Chapel

On Friday night, October 14th, the tacky party program sponsored by the White's Chapel Community Center was a wonderful success. Throughout the entire evening there was not a dull moment.

A program composed of readings and songs was well rendered. Plenty of good music was furnished by the local string band, assisted by visiting musicians.

Miss Jewell Albritton of Corsicana, gave three readings which met with hearty applause. The community extends many thanks to Miss Albritton for her assistance on the program.

During the evening performance the tacky contestants paraded before the three selected judges. The parade created an uproar of laughter and merriment.

A. W. Shearer and Mrs. Earl Beeman were awarded prizes for being the tackiest dressed ones in the parade.

Coffee, cold drinks, chill, cakes and pies were sold.

ABSENTEE VOTING FOR GENERAL NOVEMBER ELECTION WILL BEGIN IN TEXAS TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Tomorrow is another date marked on 1938 political calendars. At that time absentee balloting for the general election Nov. 8 may begin. November 3 is the last day for casting such ballots.

Virtually all state officials will cast absentee ballots because although they may not have actually resided for many years in counties from which they hail, they have consistently maintained voting residence in them.

Governor James V. Allred, for example, votes in Wichita Falls, sometimes going there in person but more often voting by mail. A special law gives state officials and employes the right to vote in Travis county but few of the former avail themselves of it.

Any one may vote absentee" if he is absent from his county or unable because of sickness or physical disability to go to the polling place.

If he is entitled to cast an absentee vote, the procedure is to write his county clerk for a ballot, which is sent him in a return envelop.

The voter must then vote before a notary public, who mails the ballot to the county clerk. Absentee ballots must be received not less than three days before the election. They are counted with those cast at the polls.

It costs a little more to vote by absentee ballot than in person at the polls. Usually there is a 15-cent charge by the county clerk to cover mailing costs and a fee by the notary public, 50 cents being the probable average.

FOUR GERMANS ARE HELD AFTER CANAL PICTURES TAKEN

PANAMA, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Four German espionage suspects, accused of photographing key defenses to the Panama Canal, were turned over today by United States military authorities to Canal Zone police at the Cristobal jail.

District Attorney J. M. McGuigan assumed direction of investigating their alleged picture-taking yesterday.

Kurt Lindenberg, German consul at Cristobal, had offered his services to help a military investigation which was made before the four young prisoners were delivered to civilian police.

Lindenberg blamed the incident on an innocent Sunday outing which, he said, led the picnickers into forbidden zones. He declared army officials were "within their rights to resent a stupid, though unpremediated, intrusion on the military reservation."

The four were arrested Sunday while taking pictures of Galeta Point, first defense of the Atlantic approach to the canal.

They entered Fort Randolph Reservation in the morning by auto and denied, the sentry said, that they had a camera. The question is routine to all visitors.

The sentry became suspicious and notified his sergeant two hours later. Search led to the arrests and confiscation of the quartet's camera and automobile.

They were taken to Fort Randolph guardhouse and military authorities said they were: Ingeborg Gutmann, the woman; Hans Shackow, said to be employed by the German Hapag-Lloyd Steamship line agency at Cristobal; Gisbert Gross and Edward Robert Kuhrig.

Film from the camera was developed but officers did not announce what the pictures showed.

IDA BESS TINKLE DIED AT EMHOUSE; BURIAL ON MONDAY

Funeral services for Miss Ida Bess Tinkle, aged 18 years, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Newell Tinkle of Emhouse, who died Sunday, were held from the Emhouse High school auditorium Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery here.

Surviving are her parents, a brother, Randall Tinkle; two sisters, Geraldine and Totsey Tinkle, all of Emhouse, and other relatives.

CATHOLIC LEADERS GATHER OPENING RELIGIOUS CONGRESS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—(AP)—George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, legate to Pope Pius XI, came here today with his papal suite to open the eighth national Eucharistic Congress.

With him on his special train from Chicago came two envoys of the Pope, Monsignor Alberto Arborio Mella Di St. Elia, master of the Papal household, and Monsignor Ermano Bonazzi, one of the Papal master of ceremonies.

Rigid Vatican etiquette forbids direct quotations from the Cardinal while on this mission except from his formal utterances.

But those in his party said the Cardinal was thrilled at the spiritual devotion evidenced by the thousands jamming the city for the congress.

JACK DOYLE HELD ON ILLEGAL ENTRY CHARGES IN WEST

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—(AP)—If the state department, which has cancelled the passport visa of Jack Doyle, singing Irish prizefighter, sends him out of the United States, it will be to this country's financial loss, he indicated today.

"After all," Doyle said in jail, "I'm a fellow who has plenty of money. I planned to spend plenty in the United States.

"But if they don't want me here—well, I guess I can leave."

Doyle expressed bewilderment as to why he was taken in custody by federal immigration officers when he arrived by airplane from Newark, N. J., early yesterday, and his immediate concern today was to obtain his release on bail.

"I can't understand this at all," Doyle's lawyer, Jack Irwin, quoted him as saying. "Why, I know of no wrong-doing."

Dispatches from New York said the state department had cancelled Doyle's passport visa without specifying the reasons.

Ellis Island authoritie said Doyle had been denied entry to this country from Europe by way of Montreal recently, and the next they knew he was in Chicago. But, meanwhile, he had flown to New York and broken into print when he was punched in a night club by Elinor Troy, who accused him of breaking a date with her.

He was bopked here on illegal entry charges.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Immigration authorities at Ellis Island said today Jack Doyle, Irish prizefighter, was under arrest in Los Angeles because he had entered the country illegally. His case, they said, will be handled by Los Angeles officials.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 17.—(AP)—American farm youth, gathered here this week for the eleventh national convention of the Future Farmers of America, lauded the accomplishments of and elevated to the highest degree in their organization 12 outstanding young farmers from Texas.

Elected to this degree, known as "American Farmer," were Macom James, Lubbock; John Harrell, Lubbock; Roland Bing, Oakwood; Doveral Terrell, Rotan; Tommie Stuart, Roby; Beverly King, Graham; LeRoy Sugarek, Beeville; Polite Bazan, Jr., Millet; Herbert Hahmer, Weimar; Steve Hajovsky, Weimar; Walter Cardwell, Luling; Charles Thompson, Pearsall.

To be considered for the American Farmer degree farm youths must have completed at least three years of systematic instruction in vacational agricultural, must have earned through supervised farming activities and invested in farming at least 500, must have been active in school and rural activities, and have ranked high in scholarship.

GUNS ORDERED KEPT OUT OF COURTROOM IN MURDER TRIAL

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—District Judge J. D. Moore today ordered all guns except those of Travis county deputy sheriffs left outside the court room when he called the trial of five Starr county men charged with murder.

The defendants, to be tried here on a change of venue in connection with the slaying March 6 of Eulalio Elizondo and Jose Cantu, former Starr county deputy sheriffs, and Ramon De La Cruz, deputy sheriff, were Amado Vera, Jr., Martin Solis, Elias Solis, Benito Haenz and Benigno Ramirez.

Judge Moore, who previously dismissed an indictment against Juan Solis because of lack of evidence, overruled a defense motion that Solis be tried.

Selection of a jury for joint trial of the five defendants was expected to begin during the day.

CZECHS

and achieve greater prosperity by co-operation within the German orbit.

Czechoslovakia, if not convinced by the rosy German picture, are according to all indications resigned to the necessity of looking to Germany for support.

The past few days have seen a striking change in the German-Czechoslovak relations, contrasting sharply with the strained situation when Europe seemed on the verge of war over the Sudeten problem.

While the controlled German Press now speaks of help for Czechoslovakia, the controlled Czechoslovak press speaks of cooperation with Germany.

An increasing desire to co-operate with Germany was seen in the Czechoslovak cabinet's decision yesterday to send four ministers to Berlin: Finance Minister Joseph Kalfus, Minister of Commerce and Industry Imrich Karvas, Agriculture Minister Vladislav Feieraband and Minister Without Portfolio Huga Vavrecka.

Czechs Must Bow to Axis.

ROME, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A strong hint came from Italian official quarters today that in order to satisfy Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Hitler Czechoslovakia must come within the orbit of the Rome-Berlin axis.

A bulletin of the Informazione Diplomatica, information service, distributed by the ministry of popular culture, indicated that the Prague government's policies—political, economic and spiritual"—must swing toward those of Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy.

The bulletin said negotiations for the cession of Czechoslovak territory to Hungary would be resumed in a few days and the outcome would be successful for Hungary. It added that once the new frontiers of Czechoslovakia are fixed in accordance with Mussolini's principles they would be guaranteed by Italy.

Archbishop Criticizes Pact.

CANTERBURY, Eng., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Anglican primate of all England, today guardedly criticized Prime Minister Chamberlain's Munich settlement in a speech to his diocesan conference.

The archbishop, the Most. Reverend Cosmo Gordon Lang, who was former Prime Minister Baldwin's staunchest supporter in the 1936 crisis over the abdication of King Edward VIII, said:

"I think we must admit that though we are filled with thankfulness for peace we can not have any enthusiasm for the terms by which peace was won."

He referred to the agreement for the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia to satisfy the demands of Nazi Germany.

Must Make New Proposal.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Baron Bothmer of the foreign office declared today that Czechoslovakia must make a new proposal before Hungary takes further action in her demands for Hungarian-populated regions of Czechoslovakia.

Such an offer, to lay a basis for renewing the interrupted Komarom conversations, is expected shortly, Baron Bothmer said. But, he added, any new plan would be made more difficult to accept because of "increased Czechoslovak atrocities" in Hungarian minority regions.

Hungary, despite a general feeling that chances for a peaceful settlement have brightened considerably, still moved men and equipment to the Czechoslovak frontier. The cabinet, meanwhile, met to consider suggestions of Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini of Italy for settling the dispute.

partment, which obtained an order from the district court in this county calling for Huey's re-arrest, was expected to take further action in an attempt to make the order effective.

Shortly after Judge Curtis Douglass, sitting at Stinnett, ordered Huey's apprehension, the former county official, through his attorney, procured an injunction from District Judge Fountain Kirby of Groesbeck restraining officers from arresting him.

Huey was sentenced to prison on a charge of embezzlement of county funds. He was released several weeks ago on a writ of habeas corpus granted by Judge Kirby. Judge Douglas decided Saturday after a hearing that the writ was invalid.

Attorney General William McCraw was expected to appeal from Judge Kirby's actions either to the court of civil appeals at Waco or the state court of criminal appeals at Austin. He said he believed "this kind of procedure should be stopped for once and all" and "we should send the rangers out to get Huey back in the penitentiary."

Huey Declares Will Not Surrender Now

HOUSTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A man who gave his name as Arthur Huey, former Hutchinson county tax assessor-collector, convicted of embezzlement, telephoned J. R. Hopper of the Houston Chronicle editorial staff last night and said he would not surrender.

Hopper said the Chronicle telephone operator gave the man his home telephone number when the man called the newspaper and asked to talk to a reporter. The newsman said he did not know Huey, who was released from prison on a writ issued by District Judge Fountain Kirby of Groesbeck and then ordered rearrested when District Judge Curtis Douglass at Stinnett held the Kirby writ was invalid.

The Chronicle newsman said the man who telephoned him said:

"I just want to get a statement in the Chronicle. I want everyone to know I am not running away, that a district court order has been issued restraining all Texas peace officers from arresting me and as soon as that order has been served on all officers, I'll adopt a permanent residence.

"I won't surrender at this time, but I will abide by the final decision of the court and if it goes against me they won't have to hunt for me. I'll be where they can get hold of me. I want to cause the prison officials as little inconvenience as possible."

Hopper said the man, who said he was talking from a Houston telephone booth, criticized the state pardon system and said he had consistently refused a conditional pardon since his incarceration in the state penitentiary on the embezzlement conviction.

GERMANY EMERGES IN MEDIATOR ROLE CENRTAL EUROPE

HUNGARY BREAKS CZECH NEGOTIATIONS AND MOBILIZES 200,000 MEN

By The Associated Press.

Hungary, having broken minority negotiations with Czechoslovakia, today mobilized 200,000 men as Germany emerged in the role of mediator in Central Europe's knotty nationalities issue.

Hungary called five classes to the colors for what officials said was peace, not war. They declared the collapse of negotiations on Budapests' demands for Hungarian-populated parts of Czechoslovakia and "continued mobilization of the Czechoslovak army" endangered Hungarian security.

The official press declared Hungary had "powerful friends"—a reference to Italy and Germany, with whose heads two Hungarian envoys conferred yesterday.

Although a Hungarian appeal was sent to the four Munich powers to mediate the dispute, Reichsfuehrer Hitler was regarded in Germany as having become mediator without the need of help from Great Britain, France or Italy, the four-power members of the Munich accord.

Nazi sources said the principal result of the fuehrer's talk yesterday with Koloman Darnyi, former Hungarian premier, and Frantisek Chvalkovsky, Czechoslovak foreign minister, was Hitler's assurance that Hungary would get her legitimate share of diminishing Czechoslovakia.

Political circles expressed belief that Hitler told Chvalkovsky in unmistakable language that he wanted the issue settled quickly.

Czechoslovakia, however, continued to move troops closer to her frontier with Hungary on the Danube river and a Czech officer declared any attempt to occupy Czechoslovak territory would be resisted under any circumstances.

Conference Abandoning.

Circles close to the French foreign office said the idea of a four-power conference to settle the differences between Hungary and Czechoslovakia had been abandoned and that the disputing nations would renew direct negotiations.

Nazi Germany also followed up a recent ban on Jewish doctors by barring Jews from the practice of law with certain exceptions. Austrian Jews woh are war veterans and whose families have resided at least 50 years may pracitice in Austria only. Jews may give legal advice to other Jews.

A poem in praise of Marshal Vassily K. Bluecher, commander-in-chief of the Soviet Russian Farm Eastern army, appeared in a provincial newspaper. It aroused considerabel interest in foreign circles which had been mystified by lack of mention of him in the Soviet press for weeks.

In Britain, meanwhile, national registration of all Britons to give the British government an index of forces available for service in an emergency was considered.

Activity on the three fronts indicated the possibility of a new major-scale campaign in Spain.

Japanese, at the end of a week marked by the opening of a campaign in South China, made long strides both toward Canton, chief Southern city, and toward Hankow, China's provisional capital.

Although there was no major change on the Yangtze front, Japanese warships were reported to have steamed up the river to within 80 miles of Hankow.

Registration of British.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—National registration of Britons was considered today to give the British government an index of forces available for service in an emergency.

Legislative proposals giving Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's cabinet power to establish such a register were expected to be announced in King George's speech re-opening parliament November 8.

Informed political quarters said a special department of national defense, responsible for all branches of civilian home protection, was planned.

Sir John Anderson, author of a scheme for evacuating London civilians during the German-Czechoslovak crisis last month, was mentioned widely as the probable first minister of the proposed division.

Some Exceptions Made.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Nazi Germany today followed up a recent ban on Jewish doctors by barring Jews from the practice of law with certain exceptions.

A decree published in the official Gazette bans Jewish attorneys from the bar association in Austria, effective December 31. The ban is effective in th erest of Germany November 30.

Jewish lawyers may continue to serve Jewish clients, according to an interpretation of the decree, however, and judicial authorities will admit Jewish counsel to give legal advice to Jews and to represent them.

WHEELER DECLARES MEMBERS SENATE VOTE AS PLEASE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) predicted today a majority of the senate would vote "independently" on all administration measures in the next session.

Wheeler, declaring this might be his last term in the senate, said he personally would vote as he saw fit on all legislative proposals sent to the capitol by the White House.

He said that as a result of the failure of President Roosevelt's efforts to defeat Senators George of Georgia, Tydings of Maryland and Smith of South Carolina, all democrats, he believed many other senators would take the same position. They will outnumber, he forecast, the senators who are 100 per cent behind all Roosevelt measures.

"I think the senate this next session," Wheeler said, "will be more independent than it has been during the last six years.

"This doesn't mean the senate is going to oppose any and all administration legislation. It does mean that we're not going to be a lot of Charlie McCarthys.

"We're going to vote our own independent judgment and because of the way the WPA has been used in the primaries for political purposes, I think there will be a determined effort made to pass laws which will tend to take the WPA out of politics and perhaps take it out of the control of the present setup.

"There ought to be a house cleaning in WPA."

Wheeler who has been in the senate since 1922, said he had not decided yet whether he would run for re-election in 1940.

HUGE THRONG WILL WITNESS TUSSLE AT WACO MUNY STADIUM

CLEBURNE MEETS TEMPLE; BRYAN OPPOSES WAXAHACHIE FRIDAY NIGHT

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor.

Conditions will be rocky this week-end in old District 11 with all clubs in action with the exception of the battered, bruised and crippled Hillsboro Eagles. Coach Holly McLemore's courageous Eagles are deserving of a rest following a series of bruising and toll-taking melees with Corsicana and Waco.

The headline attraction in the district will be "The Battle of the Bengals" between Corsicana and Waco in the municipal stadium at Waco Friday night. This brings together two of the most colorful combatants in the far-flung expanse of the University of Texas Interscholastic League; it brings together the proteges of two of the best known and most feared mentors in a clash to the death; it will see two packs of Tigers fighting, both of whom have always been scrappers from the first to the final whistle; and it brings together the hopes and aspirations of two former champions, both definitely believed by their adherents to be on a definite comeback trail, in a determined effort to regain the glories of the yesteryears.

Former Stars Present.

Many of the great football players of these two teams will be in the stands cheering their successors wearing the Blue and Gold uniforms of the Navarro Bengals, and their number will be matched or exceeded by the former greats in Waco's White and Gold togs. Other immortals will be on hand in spirit. Among the great players pulling for and watching the Navarro countains will be Jack McNutt, who passed Corsicana into their first 19-14 victory in 1928—the battle that ended the supremacy of Waco in Central Texas and signalled the rise in power of the Corsicana club two years later that swept to five straight district titles. Glenn Wells, the Ross brothers, Stamps and others played in those days. In 1930 and 1931 there were such luminaries as Hornbeak, Wilson, Stamps, Richardson, Crowther, Stewart, Pryor and others.

In 1932, Bull Kessinger, Don Humphries, Robert Finley, Jack Hughes, Westbrook, Cole, Green, Bowlin and others and later stars included Harshaw, all-state guard; Homer Humphries, McCulloch, Carl Ashworth, Tom Sharp and others.

Trek Westward.

Friday afternoon and early Friday evening most of the traffic on Highway 31 will be proceeding in a westerly direction. By train, bus, auto and hitch-hiking the waves of humanity will be converging on the Muny stadium at Waco. Ample room is assured, with approximately 15,000 seats available.

Waco has made a more impressive record this far this season than has Corsicana as far as scores are concerned and based on the same conditions, have a better defensive record. Waco will outweigh Corsicana as practically every post. Corsicana is faster. Waco presents a sensational passing attack; Corsicana has relied principally this season on a quick-breaking running attack that has swept up and down various gridirons of the campaign.

Waco's Record.

Waco 27, Mexia 6.
Waco 33, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) 6.
Waco 66, Waxahachie 0.
Waco 27, Hillsboro 0.
Total, Waco 153, opposition 12.

Corsicana Record.

Corsicana 19, Ennis 2.
Corsicana 18, Bryan 6.
Corsicana 21, Mexia 6.
Corsicana 47, Hillsboro 6.
Total, Corsicana 105, opposition 20.

Waco drubbed Mexia by a more decisive count than did Corsicana, while on the other hand, Corsicana trimmed Hillsboro more decisively, but it must be borne in mind that the 1932 state championship club was sitting on the sidelines encouraging the Corsicana crew when it smothered the Eagles. Hillsboro fandom Friday night, both before and after the Waco tussle Friday night, made no secret they believed Corsicana would take the Bengals in Waco, and so told the Waco enthusiasts.

Neither Club Tested.

Looking at the situation without bias or feeling, however, it is the writer's belief that neither Paul Tyson of Waco nor John Pierce of Corsicana know exactly what they have this year. Neither have been extended and both have played everyone except the waterboys on both squads in each contest this season. The rival mentors do not know what their strongest lineup can do if called upon for 60 minutes of fight and scrap to stave off defeat. Some teams look like a million dollars against weaker opposition and then fold up against better competition when nerve and fighting spirit turns the scales. Corsicana fandom believes the fast scrappers of Corsicana can take it, but will they take the bigger Wacoans? That's the only question.

Tucker's Ratings.

In face of the record of the year, Jinx Tucker, Waco veteran scribe, in his weekly ratings of outstanding teams, places Corsicana in the third slot, while Waco is placed at the fifth, just below Tyler. Wichita Falls and Amarillo are ranked in the first and second slots, respectively.

Tucker issued a veiled warning to Corsicana when he wrote:

"Hillsboro probably played a far better game against Waco than it did against Corsicana, and Waco will probably play a far better game against Corsicana than at did against Hillsboro. Hillsboro did not score against Waco. Corsicana might also have trouble in doing so. Corsicana is much faster than Waco, but Waco is heavier and the Tigers have several very fast boys x x As we see it, on performance thus far it is the kind of game in which anything can happen, and when Corsicana and Waco play in such a game, everything bad usually happens to Waco. The Tigers, however, have the home advantage. That is something. The winner ought to win the district title, but with Cleburne improving and Temple apt to stage a comeback, it is no cinch by any means."

Other Contests.

Rivaling the "Tiger Tussle" in importance and interest will be the battde between Cleburne and Temple at Temple. Both are undefeated in district competition. They are rival Santa Fe division points. Temple has experienced tough going, but has the best defensive record in the district. Cleburne bounded into a reversal of form last Friday to drub Bryan, 21-0, while Temple won from Bryan, 12-7, after being soundly outplayed by Bryan. Corsicana won over Bryan, 18-6, when the Bengals caught the Broncs with a half dozen cripples.

Bryan invades Waxahachie Friday night in another District 11 combat. This counts in the percentage, but does not have any bearing on the title. Bryan, Waxahachie and Hillsboro have been removed from the championship picture, leaving only Corsicana, Cleburne, Temple and Waco.

Of the eight untied and undefeated high schools in the Class A division of the Interscholastic League, Corsicana and Waco of District 11 are included.

One powerful football club with an undefeated, untied record will fall by the wayside in Waco Friday night.

NEWSPAPER DECLARED BE DOING BETTER JOB THAN EVER MAKING COMPLICATED NEWS MORE CLEAR

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Newspapers are doing a better job than ever in making the world's most complicated news clear and informative for their readers, a New Orleans editor declared today.

And the readers are grateful, said George W. Healy, Jr., managing editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Healy was on the program of the closing session of the Associated Press Managing Editors' Association, ending its sixth annual convention.

"We have come a long way in gathering news," he said. "And we are learning to handle it more attractively than ever for the hurried reader. We still have things to learn, but we're learning them."

Previously Kent Cooper, A. P. general manager, predicted the newspaper of the future—perhaps in 10 years—would devote only half its editorial content to type. The other half will be in pictures, he said.

The press association executive visioned a day when the present wirephoto, one of the major photographic developments of the 20th century, might be outmoded. He said he expected the future would bring transmission of matrices of photographs, ready for immediate stereotyping and publication. Now it is necessary that the wirephotoed picture be first translated into a zinc photo-engraving.

John Paschall, Atlanta Journal; C. G. Wellington, Kansas City Star, and A. Y. Aronson, Louisville Times, also were on the closing program, which followed selection of new managing editors' association officers for the next year. N. R. Howard, editor of the Cleveland News, was chosen chairman, and Wellington vice-chairman. The organization will meet in New York in 1939.

DAUGHTER OF MAN WHO MADE POSSIBLE EXPANSION TEXAS UNIVERSITY STUDENT THERE

AUSTIN, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Carlene Cromwell of San Angelo, the daughter of the man who brought millions to the University of Texas, now goes to school in the very buildings her father made possible.

As a child she lived in a tent in West Texas where her father Carl Cromwell, brought in the first oil well on university lands in 1923—the old Santa Rita No. 1 at Texon, Reagan county.

The university's physical expansion was financed principally by interest from its permanent fund to which revenue from its oil and gas leases accrue.

Carlene's father died in 1933 but his daughter is part of the institution he made wealthy. She lives in Carother dormitory, one of the new campus buildings that revenues from oil lands helped build.

Two years old at the time, Carlene does not remember when the Santa Rita No. 1 blew in but she's heard her parents talk about it so much that it all seems very real to her.

In 1923 practically everyone had given up hope the West Texas acres leased from the University by the Texton Oil and Land Company would yield oil. Cromwell and another driller stuck to their derricks however. They and their families lived in tents 100 miles from the nearest town of any size, San Angelo.

In May, 1923, the well spouted oil and gas, signalling the beginning of another chapter in Texas oil development.

Carlene says the old Santa Rita derrick is still standing, although it looks like it would topple over.

The family moved to San Angelo shortly after the well came in and it was there Carlene, an only child, went to school, graduating from high school in 1937.

Canton was placed under martial law.

Wongsha railway station was hit by 17 bombs yesterday and more than 20 persons were killed in extensive Japanese air raids along the Canton-Hankow and the Canton-Kowloon railways near the city.

Communications between Hongkonk and Canton were completely paralyzed. It was generally assumed the Chinese defenses were taking a terrific pounding from air bombardments.

Literally hundreds of hamlets and villages were reported razed or burning as a result of air attacks.

A new Japanese landing at Namtau, on the Pearl river delta near Hongkong, was reported to have been made yesterday with remarkable ease and lack of opposition.

HANKOW, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The United States consulate received reports today that two American missions on the Peiping-Hankow railway had been damaged by Japanese bombs.

The Rev. George Holm informed the consulate the Lutheran United Mission at Kiaoshan, 200 miles north of Hankow, was damaged badly by low-flying Japanes planes in two attacks October 13.

The Rev. J. L. Benson reported the Augustana Synod Mission at Hsuchang, 25 miles farther north, was bombed heavily October 14 and many Chinese occupants killed.

Baby Died Monday At P. and S. Hospital

Pioneer Literary Club of Kerens In Reassembly Session

KERENS, Oct. 17.—(Spl.)—The Pioneer Literary club meeting in re-assembly Friday, Oct. 14, in the home of Mrs. H. A. Quaite, resumed activities with a lovely 1 o'clock luncheon, planned and prepared by the business committee.

Places were found at attractively appointed small tables by members' birthday dates on clever little booklets of horoscope readings.

After the faultlessly served lunch, Mrs. T. M. Westbrook, president, announced that the theme of the occasion would be "Merrily We Live," and in so presenting, gave a delightful and informal speech of welcome to visitors and greetings to the club members.

No business was attended to at this time, but Mrs. J. B. Coates was presented as quiz mistress of a varied I. Q., which provoked much laughter and merriment, as well as having its serious and intellectual points. Groups were formed for the quiz by the assembling the birthdays, according to the seasons of the year, spring, summer, autumn and winter; scores were kept by Miss Betty Belvia Westbrook and the winners were allowed to give original presentations of various sorts.

which had sent to Berlin data on the American artillery forces in the Panama canal zone, specifications of two United States aircraft carriers, a secret American military avition code, and information concerning the strength of the American navy on the east coast.

He announced that a fourth prisoner, Guenther Gustav Rumrich, having pleaded guilty, would be a government witness and was no longer to be considered a defendant.

"The conspiracy," asserted Hardy, "was conceived in and directed from Germany. The defendants von Bonin and Menzel, residing in Berlin, Germany, are attached to the war ministry of the German government and are high German officials."

Following the statements of the prosecutor and the defense attorneys, the government called the first witness, Capt. Franz Friske, former chief officer of the German liner Hamburg.

Under questioning by Lester C. Dunigan, an assistant United States attorney, Captain Fiske, speaking in broken english, testified he knew Capt. Ernest Mueller, one of the absent Germans accused of directing the alleged conspiracy. Mueller was alleged to have been in charge of naval intelligence at Bremen.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(AP)—United States Attorney Lamar Hardy told a federal grand jury today that German spies had transmitted to the Berlin government data on the American artillery forces in the Panama Canal Zone, the strength of the American navy on the East Coast, and the specifications of two American aircraft carriers.

Members of this spy ring, he asserted, were three prisoners seated before the jury—Johanna Hofmann, 26, former beautician on the German liner Europa; Otto Hermann Viss, 36, naturalized citizen gorn in Germany, and Erich Glaser, 28, naturalized citizen born in Germany and former United States army soldier.

Hardy, opening the trial of the three on espionage charges, told the jury that the spy ring had forged President Roosevelt's signature to a fictitious order to the navy for the aircraft carrier specifications.

A fourth prisoner, Guenther Gustav Rumrich, pleaded guilty at the opening of the trial Friday and will testify as a government witness.

Hardy described the alleged conspiracy as directed from Germany, with contact men transferring messages back and forth to agents of German extraction in this country.

He said two officials of German steamship lines in this country aided in establishing the contact between agents in this country and their directors abroad.

He said a German named Sanders, said to be attached to naval intelligence at Bremen, Germany, had told Rumrich to try to obtain information about operations in American commercial plants, particularly the DuPont Company and Bethlehem Steel.

Posed as Piano Tuner.

William Lonkowski, one of the alleged higher-ups in the ring, was said by Hardy to have represented himself as a piano tuner and obtained secrets of a military nature from the defendant, Voss, an aviation mechanic.

Hardy described Voss and Lonkowski as meeting at the house of Miss Senta De Wanger, a German banker's daughter, who is in protective custody.

He said Dr. Ignatz Theodore Griebel, one of the defendants who fled to Germany on the eve of the inquiry, was a "great believer in the national socialist party" and permitted his home to be used as a sort of clearance house for members of the ring.

He said Griebel had conferred with Lieutenant Commander Udo Von Bonin, attached to the defense office of the German war ministry, at the Eden Hotel in Berlin. Capt. Erich Pfeiffer, another of the defendants now in Germany, Hardy said, once boasted he had agents in every important airplane plant in America, and that Pfeiffer had offered Griebl a commission in the medical corps of the German army.

Miss Hoffman when arrested, he went on, had $70 in her purse—$30 to be given to Rumrich and $40 to the man who furnished a secret code.

Child Asleep Many Months Has Birthday

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Mary Ellen Reardon, who has lain in a deep sleep for nearly seven months, reached her third birthday today.

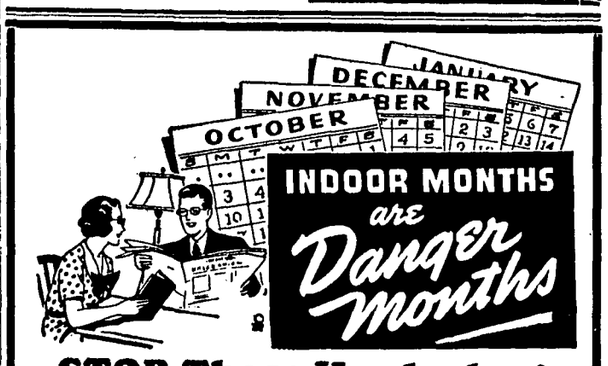

The child fell into the slumber last March 25 after an attack of measles. Doctors diagnosed her illness as encephalitis lethargica—sleeping sickness—and expressed doubt that she would recover.
